WESTERN STRATEGY

Big Three Will Test Tito's Basic Position

U.S. Suggests Talks With Tito, June 24

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are expected to ask Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government soon for much closer cooperation with their strategic plans for the security of Western Europe.

The request will test Tito's basic position in the East-West contest following his spectacular conferences with Russia's leaders.

One aim of Western strategy is to strengthen the total defense position in southern Europe to counterbalance the neutralization of Austria which lies between Yugoslavia and Germany.

Another objective, in the light of the just-concluded Russian mission to Belgrade, is to determine where Marshal Tito, as an independent Communist leader, really stands. Specifically, officials would like to know what his military position would be in event of Soviet Communist aggression or threat to the peace in Europe.

The basis of concern on this point is that Tito has been receiving substantial military help from the Western powers, mostly the United States, for several years and the purpose of that help is to strengthen the over-all defense of Free Europe.

Some rumblings of unrest over aid to Tito are being heard in Congress as a result of his meeting with the Russians. Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said today an effort will be made to "tie some strings" to Yugoslav aid when the House takes up the foreign assistance bill, already passed by the Senate.

U. S. Ambassador James Riddleberger has been called home from Belgrade to report to Secretary of State Dulles on the Tito-Russian meetings. He is due here soon, perhaps Tuesday.

U.S. Agrees Geneva Suitable For Top Level Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has notified Britain and France it is willing to hold the proposed top level Big Four meeting at Geneva, Switzerland, beginning July 18, officials said today.

Previously, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles had insisted on holding the meeting at Lausanne in Switzerland or, alternatively, they would have accepted Stockholm as a neutral meeting ground. The Russians did not favor Lausanne and had insisted on Vienna.

The three Western powers will send a note to Moscow in the next few days setting forth as a proposal the time and place which they have agreed on. It will then be up to the Soviets to say whether the terms suggested are agreeable to them.

BROKEN HIP FAILS TO STOP WEDDING

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP)—A woman, who broke a hip while preparing for her wedding, broke with custom today and got married in a hospital.

Mrs. Eleanor O'Leary, 36, and Ray Roberts, 51, were wed in Delnor Hospital.

The brunette bride was stretched out in bed, with her right leg hoisted in a ropes-and-pulleys traction device.

Mrs. O'Leary, a widow, and Roberts, a widower who owns a restaurant near West Chicago, had planned to be married in July. But she broke her right ankle in February and, while she was convalescing, they decided to have the wedding June 4.

But three weeks ago Mrs. O'Leary fractured her right hip when her car ran into a ditch near her home in West Chicago.

Friends advised her and Roberts not to change the wedding date—it's bad luck, they said—so they got the hospital's permission to hold the ceremony there.

The bride declined to permit photographs.

The bride expects to remain in the hospital for three weeks.

Russia Worries About Atom Attack Prepares Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia, which worries about "a surprise atomic attack," is preparing its vast ground army to fight against nuclear weapons.

Some details of Russia's program for "antiatomic" defense—somewhat similar to a program which has been under way in the United States for several years—have become available here.

The Soviet Ministry of Defense started issuing a series of training bulletins about a year ago. Some of the material has been disseminated to troops through the ministry's publication, Red Star. Reflecting urgency, Moscow radioed some of the information to Soviet troops deployed in the Far East.

The ministry claims that Russia and her armed forces have "a complete system of measures, the essence of which consists in guarding the population and also the troops as reliably as possible, against a surprise atomic attack."

One bulletin says that "not only are measures being taken for the direct protection of troops and the population, but methods are being developed for combating aircraft and other atomic bomb carriers."

The Russian army apparently has arrived at much the same conclusions as the U. S. Army, which for several years has been pitting troops and weapons against actual atomic explosions in tests in Nevada.

Stratton Crowns Miss Bopp Queen Of Milk Festival

HARVARD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Stratton crowned Janice Marie Bopp, pretty 17-year-old high school senior, queen at the 14th annual Milk Day festival Saturday in this northern Illinois dairyland capital.

More than 50,000 visitors jammed Harvard, a city of 3,500 population, for the festival.

Mayor John McCabe, Gov. Stratton and Herbert B. Megran, president of the University of Illinois trustees, led an hour-long parade down Ayer Street, Harvard's main thoroughfare.

Ayer Street was splattered with 400 gallons of whitewash beforehand and named the "Milky Way" for the festival, sponsored by the Harvard Chamber of Commerce as a day of entertainment for dairy farmers in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

In the parade were 19 high school bands, many floats, decorated tractors, trucks, autos, milk wagons and children's pets.

Free milk was served to visitors. For those who wanted their milk a little peppery, a cafe offered a special punch of milk, brandy and rum at 50 cents a glass.

Mystery Shrouds Deaths Of Three Members Of Family

CADOTT, Wis. (AP)—A rural tragedy took on the proportions of a major mystery Saturday as an autopsy failed to disclose the reason why three members of one family died in their beds.

Chippewa County Sheriff Clifford Dorr said that the state crime laboratory at Madison was asked to determine if possible the cause of death of Albert Warner, 48, his 30-year-old wife Margaret and a 5-month-old son.

The three were found dead Friday night in adjoining beds crammed into their tiny home near this northwestern Wisconsin village.

Found with the dead were two surviving children—Michael, 5, and Charis, 2. They were taken to a hospital where by Saturday they were reported improved. Dorr said that Michael might be the only hope of authorities to determine what happened in the home some time after Wednesday night.

County Coroner Earl Hatleberg said after a preliminary investigation he believed Warner had beaten his wife to death, then turned on the gas from a cooking stove, and that despite the autopsy report, "I still think so."

However, Sheriff Dorr said Mrs.

GEN. DEAN CONFIRMS HIS RETIREMENT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Army announced today that Lt. Gen. Willard G. Wyman, commanding general of the 6th army at San Francisco Presidio since March, 1954, will be transferred July 1 to the Continental Army Command at Fort Monroe, Va.

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, of Carlyle, Ill., deputy commander of the 6th army, and hero of the Korean war, confirmed that he is stepping out, too. He has requested retirement Oct. 31. General Dean, who wears the Medal of Honor, is 55, but has almost 32 years of army service to his credit. He said he wants to spend more time with his wife and family.

An army spokesman said Maj. Gen. Robert N. Young, assistant chief of staff for personnel, would arrive at the Presidio July 1. It was assumed here he would be General Wyman's successor.

Indian Priest, Stabbed To Death, Called A Martyr

CHICAGO (AP)—An Indian priest, stabbed to death by a mysterious assailant, was termed "a martyr" Saturday at his funeral.

He was the Rev. John Chiramal, 42, who was in the United States for sociology study and as a fund raiser for his boys' town project at Kumbalangi in southwest India.

Father Chiramal, a secular Roman Catholic priest, died Thursday after he appeared before dawn at the shelter of the Little Sisters of the Poor, where he had arranged to say Mass, and collapsed of wounds in his left chest and shoulder.

A Requiem Mass was offered by the Rev. Jacob Chakiamary, a boyhood friend of Father Chiramal in India. At the service in Old St. Patrick's Church, Father Chakiamary said the stabbing victim was "a martyr and a man of true priestly apostolic labors."

Father Chiramal's body was buried in Queen of Heaven Cemetery.

Chicago police went to Mooseheart, a boys' home some 80 miles west of Chicago, to seek clues to the killing after learning that the priest had been there on the afternoon before his death.

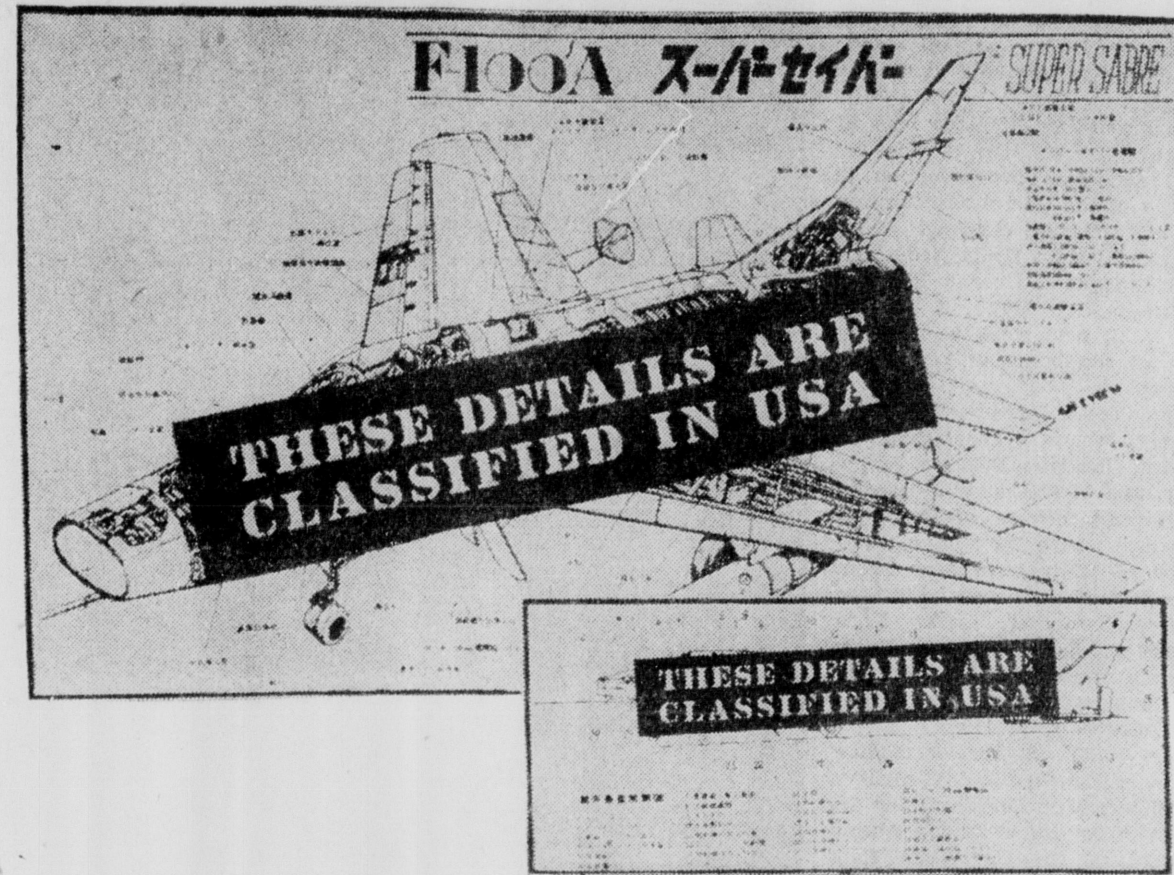

Cook County highway police joined the investigation, also, on the theory that the attack on Father Chiramal might have taken place outside of Chicago.

COLD GRADUATION GIFT NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—Jane Stewart of Washington, Pa., who will be graduated from Smith College on Monday, was a little puzzled Saturday when the iceman delivered a graduation gift.

It was from T. P. Fitch, president of the Washington Steel Co., in her home town who sent this message: "You deserve the best that life can send."

Miss Stewart said Fitch is a "friend of the family" but she was unable to explain his present.

The gift—a ton of ice—is slowly melting on a dormitory lawn.

O. J. ... — Plans of Superfast F-100 Super Sabre are super-secret in the U. S. But these facts, masked by box as shown in American magazine to cloak Air Force's fastest fighter, were published in a Japanese magazine in detail. The Air Force is investigating how Japanese magazine obtained and published drawings and how the magazine acquired the sketch of forthcoming C-133, giant turboprop transport, in an earlier breach.

TRADE WITH RED CHINA

McClellan Urges U.S. Action Against Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) urged the State Department Saturday to "take some forceful action with our allies" to halt their trade with Red China.

McClellan said figures just received from the Defense Department show Western nations' trade with the Chinese Communists reached a new five-year peak in January, and that more than half of the merchandise was carried in British flag ships.

"It is difficult to understand the action of the British," he added in a statement, "in allowing their companies and ships to carry on this type of commerce with Communist China."

Nor, the senator continued, is it any easier to understand "the action of our allies in allowing their vessels to carry materials to the mainland of China while more than 50 Americans remain in Communist jails and while there is considerable evidence that the materials carried are being used to build up China's military potential."

Argentina Ends Financial Aid To Catholic Church

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A high Roman Catholic church source disclosed Saturday the Argentine government apparently has cut off all financial subsidies to the church in advance of formal separation of church and state.

No body appeared surprised at the loss of government aid as a direct result of the seven-month conflict between President Peron's regime and Catholic authorities.

The action was forecast last March when the Education Ministry accused 90 private Catholic schools of defrauding the government by collecting salaries for nonexistent teachers. Church authorities denied the charge.

The church-state controversy flared last November when Peron accused some of the clergy of working against his government politically. The church denied the charge but since then 62 priests and scores of Catholic laymen have been arrested.

India May Stop Selling Monkeys For Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The people of India are worked up over what they consider maltreatment of rhesus monkeys and as a result American importers of the animals are being required to meet "humane" standards in order to assure monkeys for use in preparing Salk polio vaccine.

A state department spokesman cautioned against any "scare" ideas as the result of the Indian position, stating he is convinced the standards will be met.

If they aren't, however, the Indians will cut off shipment of the rhesus monkeys to this country on June 30.

Officials at the Indian Embassy said they wanted to make it clear that they have no intention of impeding scientific research but that the Indian people want no more "massacres" of monkeys.

The state department spokesman said several hundred monkeys imported from India died of suffocation in incidents in London and New York in recent months.

He added that many Indians believe in reincarnation and that they may consider that the soul of a departed relative resides in the monkeys.

The kidney of the rhesus monkey is an integral part of the polio vaccine. It is estimated this nation monkeys within the next year to keep the polio vaccine program going. India has a virtual monopoly on that type of monkey.

Transatlantic Liners Tied Up By British Strike

LONDON (AP)—Britain's strike plague tied up four transatlantic liners Saturday, including the New York-bound Mauretania. There was a hint of violence in the nationwide rail strike rounding out a week with no sign of a peace move.

Officials of a nonstriking group at Stockport said that strikers had threatened their men if they continued to run some of the 7,132 trains still operating through this morning. Normally about 36,000 trains run daily.

Prime Minister Eden planned to broadcast to the nation Sunday night in what aides said would be a blunt warning to the strikers before using all the emergency powers granted the government by Queen Elizabeth. He is expected to warn that dire economic troubles and unemployment will follow if the rail deadlock continues.

The government moved to use part of its power to requisition dump trucks to move coal to factories and power plants threatened with closing.

Countless thousands are jobless in paralyzed industry as a result of the strike for higher wages by the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, involving four-fifths of Britain's locomotive crewmen.

A breakdown, McClellan wrote, "graphically portrays the tremendous contribution British flag vessels are making in the carriage of goods to the Red China mainland."

McClellan quoted this summary of the Pentagon's report on the 160 ships' January trade with the Reds:

British flag ships, 84 with gross tonnage 501,899; Netherlands flag ships 12, tonnage 81,250; Swedish 11 and 72,001; Japanese 17 and 66,512; Finnish 10 and 53,167; French 6 and 47,151; Norwegian 6 and 47,126; Danish 5 and 37,066; Italian 3 and 19,708; Indian 2 and 10,769; West German 1 and 5,666.

"DAVY" TO VISIT CAVE IN ROCK CAVE IN ROCK, Ill. (AP)—This picturesque Ohio River town of some 500 persons is getting ready for a visit by Davy Crockett.

"Davy Crockett the River Boatman," due on television screens next fall, will be filmed here later this month. It was decided this week by Norman Foster, Walt Disney's film director.

Davy, played by Fess Parker, and the rest of the troupe will be staying at a hotel in Harrisburg, Ill., some 25 miles northwest of here.

Ford Rejects UAW Offer

Prepare For Strike Expected On Monday

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. Saturday night rejected a United Auto Workers proposal to resolve guaranteed wage differences through arbitration and said it is getting ready for an expected strike Monday.

The proposal rejected Saturday night by Ford would have submitted to arbitration a Ford-proposed 55 million dollar supplemental jobless pay plan.

John S. Bugas, Ford vice president in charge of industrial relations said union insistence on increasing the amount and duration of jobless payments from the fund endangered the chances for a settlement short of a strike.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, was equally as pessimistic as Bugas about prospects for an eleventh hour settlement. Reuther told a news conference:

"Barring a very drastic change in the company's position between now and the deadline it is reasonable to assume there will be a strike at midnight Sunday."

Reuther said that Ford had made a "very historic yielding on a basic principle" by agreeing to a guaranteed wage. He said the company had told the union it would "never travel this (guaranteed wage) road."

But the UAW-CIO president added that the "practical effect" of the company proposal was to agree to put up 55 million dollars to finance a guaranteed wage but not agree to spend the money.

"This latest UAW-CIO proposal," Bugas said in a statement, "apparently increases the possibility that Ford Motor Co. will be struck on Mr. Reuther's orders sometime after midnight Sunday."

"This we deeply regret. We are immediately making all necessary plans so that, on our part, if a strike occurs it may be as orderly as possible."

Bugas added that Ford considered Reuther's demands are "unreasonable, both as to benefit level and as to duration of benefits."

"We are quite willing," Bugas added, "to discuss this issue across the bargaining table, but it is an important matter of substance and we cannot submit it to arbitration."

Bugas said Ford had given the union a better offer than anything the rival General Motors Corp. had offered in separate but simultaneous negotiations here.

"Now," Bugas said, "our employees are face-to-face with a strike—solely because they are fewer in number than the GM employees—and to strike them is less costly to the union."

"Keep going," Ford's firm rejection of the UAW's arbitration offer was followed by a recess and then another session of just under two hours. This meeting broke up without further announcements. Negotiations will resume Sunday at 10 a.m.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, proposed the arbitration in a letter to Henry Ford II.

He also told Ford that while the union accepts the company offer to spend $55,000,000 in three years on supplemental jobless pay, the UAW feels the money would buy greater payments for a longer duration than the 26 weeks the company proposes.

Reuther's letter indicated the UAW still feels the money would finance jobless payments for 52 weeks. The letter also said that while Ford proposed no company-financed payments during a worker's first week of idleness, the UAW wanted them to start immediately.

Three Tornadoes Damage Kansas Farm Communities

LARNED, Kan. (AP)—A tornado, one of three in this area, damaged six or eight houses on the edge of Garfield, Kan., late Saturday. No injuries were reported.

Garfield is 10 miles southwest of this west-central Kansas town and 125 miles northwest of Udall, Kan., which was destroyed 10 days ago by a twister that killed 77 and injured 200.

Saturday's tornadoes in this area were among nearly a dozen that ripped across western Kansas. One slashed northeastward from near Osborne, leveling many farm buildings and striking the north edge of Mankato, near the Nebraska border.

All wire communications in this area were knocked out.

Mrs. Frank Boyd, Mankato newspaper publisher, said an alert was sounded before the storm struck and residents dived for shelter. A packing plant was unroofed. Store windows were smashed, trees and TV antennae flattened and the municipal power plant was knocked out.

A school house two miles west of Mankato was destroyed.

Buildings on three farms southwest of Mankato were smashed.

Premature Baby Pronounced Dead For Second Time

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Miracle Ann, a 30-ounce premature baby who showed her first signs of life after being taken to a funeral parlor, Saturday was pronounced dead for the second time within 30 hours.

"I feel just like a man who's been kicked, got up, and was knocked down again," said the sorrowing father, Mark Dupree, after a deputy sheriff awakened him at home at 4:30 a.m. and broke the news.

The tiny girl died a few minutes before midnight in an air-lock, a breathing device similar to an iron lung.

Dr. M. Desmond, in charge of the premature nursery at the city-county hospital, said the probable cause of death was that the lungs were not fully developed.

"The lungs of a small baby that way are not developed well. They just aren't anatomically able to take up oxygen."

An osteopath who delivered the three-months premature infant saw no sign of life and pronounced her dead shortly after birth Thursday night.

Mortician J. Robert Corry saw the baby breathe as he prepared to embalm it, some two hours after it was brought to his funeral home. He had an ambulance driver speed the child to the hospital.

Mrs. Dupree, mother of two other children, called the little girl "Miracle Ann," after she was told it had come to life.

Garden Club's Flower Show Abundant With Original Display

Mrs. Arthur Seeman, left, and Mrs. Harold Stewart make a last minute check of the table they were responsible for, Live Arrangement in Low Container.

Mrs. Rex Ranson, one of the chairmen for the display calling for Massive Bouquets for a Hall Table or Chest, stands beside one of the views of this classification. Especially lovely was the arrangement of the roses with the crystal candelabra, to the left of Mrs. Ranson.

Mrs. Edwin Aufdenkamp, the only chairman present when the photographer visited the table classified for All White Flowers, stands beside this exhibit just inside the entrance of the Youth Center where the Morgan County Garden Club sponsored its two day Flower Show May 28 and 29. The green with white color combination was unusually eye-catching.

Above are the two chairmen for the 1955 Flower Show, Mrs. Alvin Middendorf, left, stands beside an artistic display in the Japanese motif emphasized with an appropriate drape background. On the right is co-chairman, Mrs. Vernon Scholfield with her display of English Wedgewood china combined with soft shaded roses.

Commencement Play On Woodland Stage

Next Friday evening, June 10, the Ames Woodland Stage will be the scene of the annual commencement presentation of the Illinois College Hilltop Players. It is located in the southeast corner of the athletic field, just east of Beecher hall.

Ames Woodland Stage honors the Professor who first recognized the importance of drama in the life of the college student. Under his guidance, the theatre arts acquired their place at Illinois College. He supported dramatic activities during his period at the college from 1909 to the time of his death in 1945. As early as 1920, the natural features of the land were recognized ed as being ideally suited for the presentation of outdoor productions. The commencement play of that year was performed in this area. Professor John G. Ames, aside from his duties in the English department, supervised improvement of the ground and the planting of trees to set apart the stage area.

The stage has become more as it appears today when in 1921 Midsummer Nights Dream was presented there, inaugurating the tradition of performing works of unusual literary significance.

Ames Woodland Stage was formally dedicated to his memory shortly after his death and remains as a permanent tribute to his foresight of the importance of drama. The stage is marked by two small but impressive stone steps leading from the "orchestra" to the acting area.

Moliere's "The Would-be Gentleman," when it is depicted on the Ames Stage, will be a vivid cultural memorial to Professor John G. Ames.

Hints for the June Bride

Getting To Church: Usually the bride, her maid-of-honor and the father of the bride drive to Church together. Plan to share the rear seat with your attendant only, then you'll have plenty of room to arrange your gown so that wrinkles will not mar it.

Another good idea is to choose your Reed & Barton sterling silver now—in time for your wedding guests to add to your service. Prices are for 6 pc. place settings and incl. Fed. tax.

MAN'S SPORT AND A DOG'S GAME

Hunters examine coon tracks in sand and pick up scent.

Dog begins digging in gopher hole where coon is finding temporary refuge in chase.

NIGHTTIME is coon-hunting time along Florida's forested river banks. When night falls, the hounds gather around the back door, eager for the chase. Their owners pile the specially-trained dogs into trucks and seek out palmetto woodland. The dogs are released to pick up the scent and hunters study the sand for tracks. Once he's discovered, the coon has minutes to prepare for a fight, find a hole or say his prayers. Coons hide in holes that slant down through sandy soil to water level, then up again to a dry nest. It takes an experienced dog, like these, to flush out the quarry.

Two dogs retrieve coon from tunnel. Coon can cut a dog to ribbons with its teeth.

Good Eating Is Still Popular In City, But You Buy Food In Different Places

Seventy years ago there were 28 grocery stores on the Jacksonville Public Square and streets leading from the Public Square, while today there are only four grocery stores in the business district.

In 1884-1885 there were ten grocery stores in the outlying territory, compared with 33 stores today.

Many of the older residents of Jacksonville well remember when grocery stores dotted the streets of the downtown area and each store displayed potatoes, apples, cabbage and other vegetables in baskets on the sidewalks in front of the business places.

Many other items of food were also on display outside the grocery stores including, during the winter months, deer, rabbits, mackerel, cod fish and dressed chickens.

With the coming of the Super Grocery Markets the number of small stores has rapidly diminished.

Few Have Charge Accounts

Methods of doing business have also changed during the last quarter of a century. More cash markets have been opened and very few of the grocery stores have charge accounts. Fifty years ago many customers of grocery stores paid their bills once a year.

Many farmers would bring their vegetables, poultry, eggs and butter to the Jacksonville stores and take a receipt. At the end of the year the farmer would come in with his receipts and the customer and grocer would add up their accounts and one or the other pay the difference.

Groceries—Right Up Town

A City Directory of 1884-1885 shows the following grocery stores in the immediate business district:

J. P. Fearon & Son, 226-228 East State street.
W. J. Moore & Co., 225 West State street.
C. F. Brown, 61 Public Square.

New York Stock Market

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead this week to a new high, with the Dow Jones Industrial Average closing at 166.80, up 1.74 points from the previous close.

The rise wasn't spectacular by any means and it was preceded by several sessions of hesitancy. It was well founded, however, and embraced most major divisions and several minor ones.

Last April 26 the market touched the highest peak on record as measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at $166.80.

Then it fell moderately in what brokers felt was a consolidating reaction from its long upward pull. Two weeks ago the recovery from that fall began. It proceeded slowly and methodically.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks on the week gained $1.70 and closed at $166.80, only 20 cents under the record high.

A lot of hesitancy during the week was caused by doubts over the outcome of Ford negotiations with the United Automobile Workers union over a new contract. Late in the week the market brightened when agreement seemed near.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were Imperial Chemical Industries up 1/4 at 7 15-16 on volume of 141,600 shares, Jupiter Oils up 3/16 at 2 1/4, Webb & Knapp up 1/4 at 2 1/4, Molybdenite of Canada up 1/4 at 2, and Sapphire Petroleum up 5/16 at 4 3/4.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were the newly listed Sperry Rand "when issued" which closed the week at 25 1/4 on 439,000 shares, Allegheny Corp. up 1 at 9 1/4, Pan American Airways unchanged at 20 1/4, Remington Rand up 1/4 at 51, and Sperry up 10 1/4 at 82 1/4.

CHICAGO (AP)—Barrows and gilts advanced 25 to 50 cents in the livestock market this week while sows were strong to 50 cents higher. A new top for the year was set on Wednesday and Thursday at $19.75.

Dealings were highlighted by continued broad demand for hogs for shipping account.

In the cattle section steers finished weak to mostly 50 cents down while heifers dropped 25 to 75 cents. Top on steers was $25.50, lowest for any week since July, 1953. Cows and bulls were mostly higher and vealers jumped $1.00 to $2.00.

Receipts in the cattle section were down 15 per cent from a week earlier and also were slightly under a year ago. About 70 per cent of arrivals consisted of grain fed steers, the majority grading good to high choice.

Lambs closed the week steady to 50 cents higher but sheep lost 25 cents. Reduced receipts along with higher wholesale dressed lamb prices at most points were supporting factors in the live lamb trade. Native spring lambs sold as high as $24.50, equalling the best price since mid-April.

WHEAT MARKET BEARISH, CORN HITS SEASONAL LOWS

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—The usual June bear started to make his appearance in the wheat pits on the Board of Trade this week. Wheat closed the week 1 1/4 to 2 3/4 lower. It isn't unusual for wheat prices to decline in June, often carrying other grains down with them. All other cereals except rye weakened during the past week. Rye scored a small fractional advance—the fifth week in a row rye has gone up.

Corn finished the week 2 1/4 to 3 1/4 lower, oats 1 1/4 to 2 1/4 lower, rye unchanged to 3/4 higher, soybeans 2 1/4 to 4 1/4 lower and hard 30 to 42 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Corn developed pronounced weakness during the latter part of the week, going to new seasonal lows on Saturday and again on Friday. Traders were expecting an increase in cash corn marketings now that the new crop has been planted in the main corn belt.

The weakness in corn carried oats down, too. Soybeans continued to be upset by the extreme weakness in cash soybean meal, which ended Friday at a new five year low of $49.00 to $50.00 a ton. Lard future eased with weakness in fats and oils.

Test Engineer Fatally Injured In GE Laboratory

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Robert L. Meisenheimer, 31-year-old engineer, was fatally injured Friday as he worked in the test section of the General Electric Co. He was married and father of two children.

Meisenheimer had been employed here since 1948 when he was graduated at the University of Illinois with an engineering degree. He was first noticed by an employee when he slumped to the floor some 25 feet from the equipment he was testing.

The company said in a statement that the equipment carried 110 volts which it said is considered normal household voltage and generally not considered dangerous, especially to an experienced man.

REDS CRACK DOWN ON EAST, WEST GERMAN TRAVEL

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany Saturday night cracked down on travel to and from West Germany.

The move was ordered by Premier Otto Grotewohl as a "health" measure designed to prevent spread of a West German typhoid epidemic.

But West Berlin political observers speculated that it had another reason: Stoppage of the westward flow of refugees.

The Communist announcement, made through the official news agency ADN, did not say what restrictions would be imposed. It merely said measures were being taken to "reduce" the amount of travel between East and West Germany.

Reuther said the union felt Ford's plan would "freeze a very substantial portion" of a proposed $55,000,000 trust fund "into an inactive status which would serve to deny Ford workers the measure of security which the fund is capable of providing."

Matt Wineberg, chief UAW economist, told reporters that in no case under the union's proposals would a worker get jobless pay for as long as a year, though some would get the payments for nearly that long.

One important disclosure in Reuther's letter is that the union agreed that no Ford-paid supplemental jobless benefits would be payable until March 1, 1956. Ford's proposal called for an even longer delay until June, 1956.

This appeared to be somewhat of a retreat from the UAW's original position that supplemental jobless payments had to start this summer to tide over workers made jobless in heavy layoffs which the UAW has claimed will be inevitable later this year due to huge car production earlier in 1955.

Another point of difference was that Ford wants to pay nothing to workers called in but given only a few hours work in a certain week. The UAW proposed that a worker get a minimum 32 hours pay in any work week.

The UAW proposal increased hope that a strike could be averted in the auto industry.

Talks also were going on with General Motors Corp. But the emphasis plainly was on Ford. GM's contract expires next Tuesday midnight.

Most states now have a 26-week maximum on their unemployment compensation payments. The 26-week maximum is what Ford has insisted upon. The UAW still was proposing that the company financed jobless payments extend for periods up to 52 weeks.

The state payments now average about $25 a week for the nation as a whole but vary between states to maximums of more than $50. Reuther's letter indicated the UAW wants the supplemental payments to be about $25 a week.

Interpreting The News

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
The Soviet Communists are busy rewriting history again. That portends trouble. In the wake of the passionate love scene in Yugoslavia, with Soviet bosses wooing a coquettish Tito, it may mean another convulsion is in store for Soviet and satellite Communists.

The Soviet chiefs conferred at least the appearance of independent communism upon Tito and the Yugoslav party. This may be a prime source of worry in the satellite capitals. Certain leaders now may feel that eventually they face these alternatives: Strike out for local independence from Moscow or risk being liquidated. If Moscow detects any Red leaders thinking along those lines, it may well direct a preventive purge as a safety measure.

There were two striking falsifications of history recently.

The first falsification should be of deep concern to the satellite Communist leaders. It was the Belgrade statement by Soviet Communist boss N. S. Khrushchev that the chief policeman of the Stalin era, L. P. Beria, and his henchmen invented Titoism. Thus any who used the charge of Titoism in the satellite power struggles could well have been "enemies of the people."

The second falsification is that Khrushchev and Premier N. A. Bulganin were the outstanding leaders in the war against Germany. This should be of deep concern to Georgi Malenkov, the deposed premier, and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. Malenkov now holds the lower-level job of electric power boss.

This distortion appeared in the Soviet party Bible, the monthly Kommunist, published May 17, at the time Khrushchev was preparing for his pentent trip to Belgrade. The article in question was written by Col. Gen. A. S. Zhelezov, who is chief of the network of Communist party spies in the Soviet army.

Beria, of course, would have to be wiped out of the history of the Soviet victory in the war. But why Molotov and Malenkov? Can it be that the much-advertised collective leadership of the post-Stalin era has fallen apart at last? It begins to look that way, particularly in view of the obviously predominant place taken in Belgrade by Khrushchev.

If this is so, it points toward danger for many a Communist in the upper reaches of the party, both in Moscow and the satellite capitals. The excuse for a new purge now is present should the new Soviet rulers deem a purge necessary.

Regardless of the fact that all the world's devoted Stalinists heartily echoed the master's denunciations of Tito, any one of them can be arraigned now on that score.

SOME RECORD!

Johnnie Fitzpatrick, 13, is shown with his Our Saviour's grade school diploma. During his eight years there he was never absent nor tardy and he didn't miss Sunday school during that time.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Fitzpatrick, 510 E. College avenue.

During his grade school days Johnnie contracted the "3-day measles" but they came during a holiday and he was ready to go back to school on Monday.

He was a Journal carrier for more than a year and as far as the company knows he never missed a delivery.

For the past two years he has been a special altar boy for Monsignor Formaz.

And he took an active part in sports while at school. During the last three years he played in the twilight Elks baseball league.

The State Department has also authorized Riddleberger to advise the Yugoslav Foreign Office that June 24 would be a suitable date for opening four-power talks on relations between Yugoslavia on the one hand and the United States, Britain and France on the other.

Secretary Dulles conferred with President Eisenhower today on general policy matters. There was no immediate disclosure as to whether they discussed the Yugoslav situation.

Informants here emphasized that talks between the Western powers and the Yugoslav government will be conducted on the Western side by Riddleberger and the British and French envoys in Belgrade and are therefore at a "political level." This gives them more importance than if they were simply conversations among military officers over problems of Western support for the Yugoslav military force.

State Department officials say the assumption here is that Tito did not materially alter his position in his meetings with Soviet Communist boss Khrushchev and Prime Minister Bulganin. The official U. S. position is that the talks resulted in Russia's publicly recognizing Yugoslavia's independence—seven years after the 1948 break in which Soviet leaders tried to crush Tito.

These informants said Tito has always insisted that he occupy a position somewhere between the Soviet bloc and the North Atlantic Alliance. The Western powers have respected his independence, even though he at times irritated individual officials. For example, there was some such irritation when Tito made a trip to India several months ago and developed publicly the concept of a third, essentially neutral position in world affairs.

The basic American policy is that free nations, neutral or allied, exist only because of the strength and unity of the principal Western powers, particularly in the Atlantic Alliance. In the forthcoming talks they do not expect to press Tito to the himself up with this alliance. But they do want to know whether he is willing to use his independence, which has been supported for years with American economic and military assistance, in a way to strengthen the free world position.

U. S. officials said the forthcoming talks are expected to be productive and there is no serious prospect that they will result in disagreement which would cause the United States to end its aid program. Nevertheless, the degree and kind, even the existence of the aid program itself, are clearly issues in the background.

Ma' Gets Credit For Boy's Perfect Attendance

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—Was it a struggle for Herman Bartz Jr. to complete four years of high school and nine years grade school without being absent or tardy, or was it just luck?

"Luck nothing," said Herman, 18, "it was Ma." He said his mother saw to it that he and nine other Bartz children got off to school each day.

"I hated school. Most of the time I went just to play ball. I could never see any sense in skipping when I had no reason to. That would just mean work to make up."

All the Bartz children have excellent attendance records. Five daughters finished high school with not more than a week's absence each. Another daughter has six consecutive years of perfect attendance.

The Bartzes still have one more perfect attendance possible. He's little David who isn't old enough to start school.

Hogan Strong

Favorite To Win National Open

GREAT NECK, N. Y. (P)—Golf's upper crust professionals pick Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecoff and Sam Snead 1-2-3 in the National Open championship at San Francisco two weeks hence.

In an informal poll by the Associated Press, the 16 competitors in the round robin tournament made Hogan a strong favorite to seize his fifth Open title.

Middlecoff, the Masters champion, and Snead, who has never won an Open, were next in favor, followed by 24-year-old Gene Littler and Julius Boros, only others to get more than a single mention.

Decatur Course

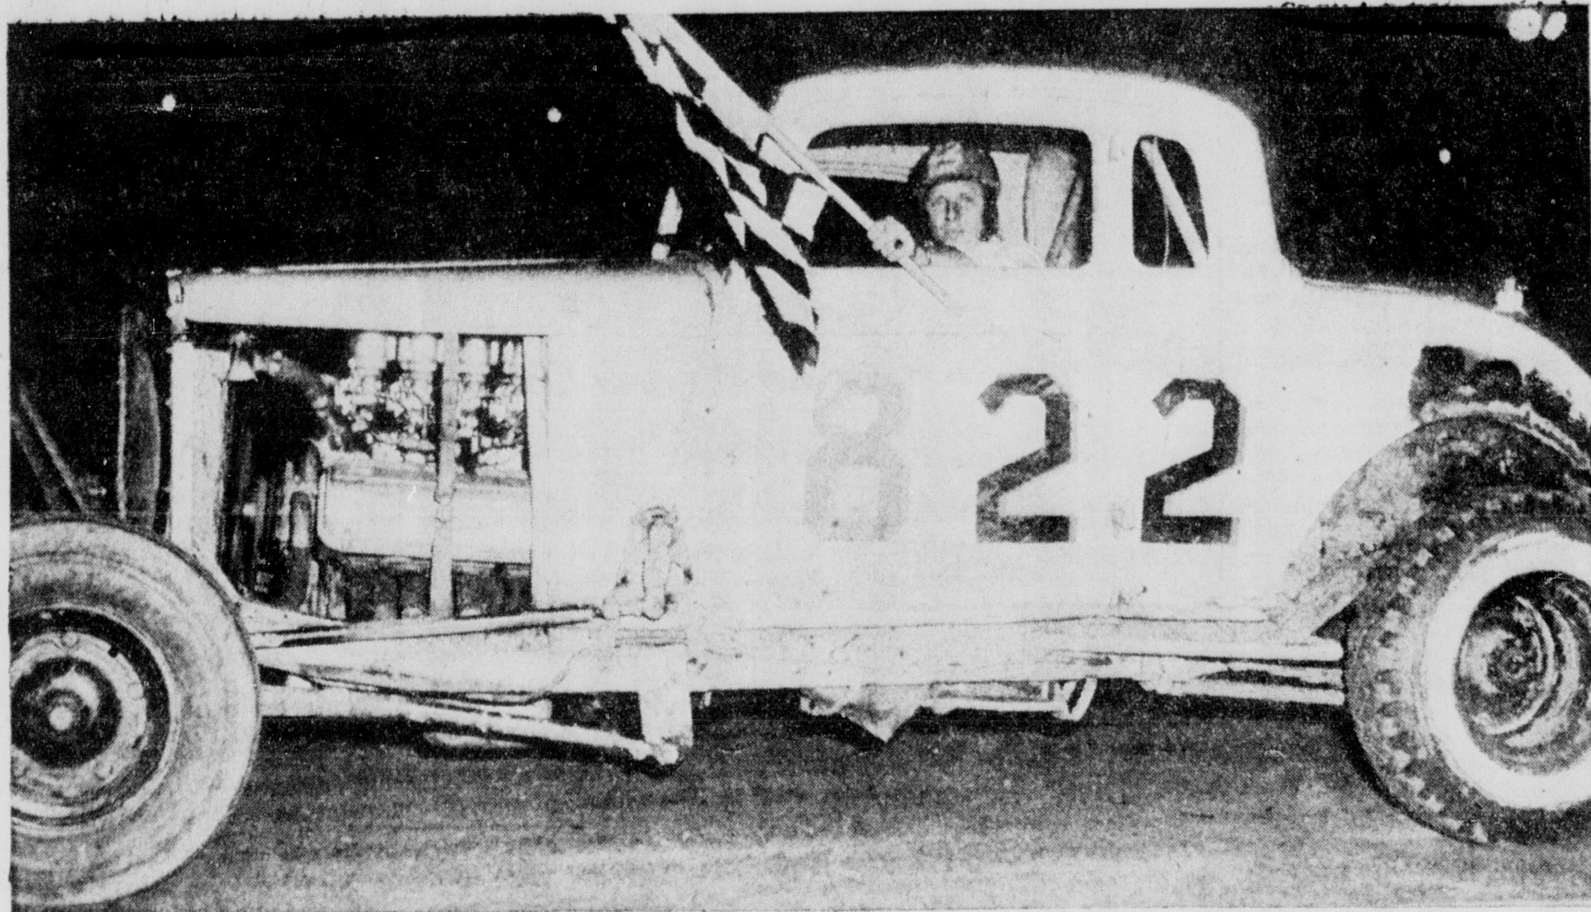

Records Broken

DECATUR, Ill. (P)—Course records for both men and women were broken at Decatur Country Club Saturday in National Golf Day competition.

The contests, which have local stars in all parts of the nation pitting their skill and handicaps against those of Patty Berg and Ed Furgol, saw Jim Frisna of Taylorville, Illinois state champion rack up a scorching 33-33-66. That was far better than Furgol's two over par 72 at the Olympic Country Club at San Francisco.

Mrs. Margorie Lindsay McMillen of Decatur shaved a stroke from the old women's record she held jointly with Babe Zaharias, turning in a 37-34-71. Mrs. McMillen, five-time state champion, was six strokes under Miss Berg's three over women's par 77 at Olympic.

4500 Racing Fans See Setser Take 1st Prize

Jacksonville's Earl Setser in his 822 Chrysler powered job came up from his back position to overtake Fibber McGee on the 16th lap and capture the feature race at the Morgan County track Friday night.

Setser, who is in second place behind Dick Vance in total points, had his job cut out for him as he was forced to battle such outstanding drivers as McGee, Sonny Gross and Frances Kelly. However, the local car proved to be master and raced the 40 laps in 11:05.91 to cop first place money. McGee in his 417 came in second while Gross and Kelly took third and fourth respectively.

The opening four car dash race was the most thrilling event of the night. Frances Kelly put on a burst of speed on the fourth lap to pass Lloyd Caldwell on the North curve and cross the finish line in the number one position.

Some 4500 stock car fans rose to their feet as the man in H145 turned the trick and edged out Caldwell who was driving Johnny Joy's airplane motored circle X. Earl Setser, who had the fastest time trial, came in third. The time for the four laps was 1:09.05.

Frances Kelly was the winner of the first 10-lap heat race. The Macomb driver took over the lead from Sonny Gross on the 6th lap. Earl Setser came in second while Quincy's Chet Newberry captured third place money. The time for the 10-laps was 2:50.25.

Jacksonville's Herbie Glancy took an early lead in the second heat and stayed ahead the entire 10 laps to win the race. Glancy drove the 10-laps in 2:51.39. Fibber McGee was second and Bob Southwell came in third.

The third heat winner was Dick Vance. Vance added to his 578 total points production by driving his P51 around the track in 2:53.21 to finish ahead of Tiger Ray Black and Frances Kelly. Kelly drove 33 laps in this event.

A newcomer to the local track, Joe Fofi from Springfield, won the consolation. Bill Griffith came in second with Wayne Staunough following in the number three position. Their time was 2:52.9.

Promoter Bryce Osborn put the last cars in the front positions for the semi-feature race and Dick Vance came from the outside position in the last row to win the 20-lap event. Vance, driving P51, raced the 20 laps in 5:43.49. Bob Southwell was second while Black and Kelly finished third and fourth.

Walsh said he was going to put the proposition to the A.A.U.

Wilson's Homer Gives Tigers 5-2 Win Over Orioles

DETROIT (P)—Catcher Bob Wilson hit his first home run since opening day — a two run drive over the left field screen in the sixth inning — as the Detroit Tigers trimmed the Baltimore Orioles 5-2 Saturday.

It was the Tigers' fourth straight victory, lifting them six games over the 500 mark with a 26-20 record.

Rookie Frank Lary went all the way for the Tigers, squaring his record at 5-5 with an effective four hitter.

Wilson climaxed a four-run outburst in the sixth against loser Harry Byrd by lining the ball over the 365 foot marker. In his first two turns at the plate Wilson had killed two Tiger rallies by hitting into inning-ending double plays.

Hard Throwing Hurler Cops 9th Straight; 3 Homers Lead Attack

BROOKLYN (P)—Big Don Newcombe, still working under a full head of steam, blew down the St. Louis Cardinals with six hits Saturday and breezed to his ninth straight victory for Brooklyn, 6-1.

Home runs by Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges and Frank Kellert eased his way.

Campanella smashed his 16th of the season with nobody on base in the second inning for the first run off rookie Larry Jackson. Kellert, playing first base with Hodges moving to the outfield to replace the injured Carl Furillo, hit his first major league homer off Jackson with Sany Amoros on base in the fourth. Hodges came through with his eighth homer in the eighth inning.

Newcombe had a shutout until Rip Repulski hit his ninth home run into the left field stands with one out in the ninth. The only other extra base hit off the fast-balling righthander was Wally Moon's leadoff double in the first inning. Moon was chopped down, trying to steal home with two out.

It was Newcombe's fifth complete game since he returned to grace after absorbing a fine for refusing to pitch batting practice.

Newcombe's victory equaled his total for the entire 1954 season and Campanella's run batted in gave him 51, tying his full-season total in '54 when he was handicapped by an injured hand.

PITTSBURGH (P)—Rudy Minarcin, freshman Cincinnati Redlegs righthander, silenced Pittsburgh 6-0 Saturday with a sparkling one hitter.

Dale Long's single to right in the second inning was the lone hit off the 25-year-old hurler. He struck out three and walked only two.

It was the sixth one-hitter in the majors this season and the third in the National League.

Shortstop Roy McMillan, usually a weak man with the stick, Johnny Temple and Ray Jablonski led the Redlegs' 14-hit attack. Temple and Jablonski got three hits apiece and McMillan two. McMillan drove in two runs.

Ronnie Kline, the Pirate starter, was charged with his eighth defeat. He's won two.

Alonzo Stagg Ends 4-Day Visit In Chicago

CHICAGO (P)—Amos Alonzo Stagg ended a four-day reunion visit at the University of Chicago Saturday with a plea to "bring back football."

The 92-year-old "Grand Old Man" who coached University of Chicago football teams for more than 40 years before the Maroons dropped the game stood with his wife and said "I don't know if we'll ever be back at the Students' Award Dinner, 'we want you to stand behind the university and fight for football. It makes more sense than any other sport."

"Columbia cut football out for 15 years before coming to its senses and started playing the game again. We want football and we want Chicago students to get the benefit of the game," he continued.

"Bring back football to Chicago. Good bye and good luck."

Dick Savitt In Finals

ST. LOUIS (P)—Defending champion Dick Savitt, former Wimbledon and Australian champion, moved into the finals of the Triple A invitational tennis tournament with three victories Saturday.

Savitt, of Houston, Tex., toppled Bill Roeder of St. Louis, 6-2, 6-2, and then swept past Carl Noble of Danville, Ill., 6-0, 6-1 in a quarter-final match.

He was pressed by Seymour Greenberg of Chicago in semi-final play but came out on top, 10-8, 6-2.

Bernard Bertzen of San Angelo, Tex., moved into the finals against Savitt by ousting second-seeded Tom Brown of San Francisco in their semi-final match 6-1, 8-6.

CLAIM WORLD RECORD

MEMPHIS (P)—Two water skiers claimed a new world's distance record Saturday after sking 312 miles non-stop from Grand Tower, Ill., to Memphis.

The skiers are George Joseph, 28, a professional ice skater who has only been skiing two weeks, and John Coll, a 25-year-old film company employee. Both are from Memphis.

Pony League Practice Game Announced

Practice workouts for the Pony League have been announced by Harold Hills, chairman of the local program. The practice games will get under way this week following last week's registration. However, if there are still boys in town who want to play and haven't signed up as yet, the deadline is today.

All 13 year olds will play Monday and Wednesday evenings of this week at 6:00 p.m. The 14 year olds will workout Tuesday and Thursday nights at the same time.

Colt league practice will be announced later.

The Cathedral of Notre Dame at Rheims, France, was begun in 1211 and completed in 1430.

Seek Mental Test For Boy Charged With Girl's Death

PORTLAND, Maine (P)—A lawyer sought court approval Saturday for mental examination of Gerald Paul Troiano, lanky 15-year-old who allegedly smashed in the head of his landlord's eight-year-old daughter when she resisted his advances.

Gerald pleaded innocent to a charge of murdering Margaret Gormley Friday and was held without bail for the September grand jury.

Atty. Jacob Agger said he would petition a superior court judge to commit the swarthy, good-looking youth to a state mental hospital for observation.

The girl was slain shortly after receiving Holy Communion at Mass in St. Dominic's Roman Catholic Church.

Police said Gerald related that he planned a sexual attack, grabbed the child by the shoulders and when she screamed, wrestled her to a cellar door and threw her down the stairs, then repeatedly struck her on the side of the head—maybe 10 times—with an agitator from a washing machine.

CHICAGO (P)—Ernie Banks' two-run single with the bases loaded in the 12th inning Saturday was enough to nail down a 9-8 decision for the Chicago Cubs over New York despite Willie Mays' second homer of the day in the last of the 12th.

After pitching out of a terrific jam in the 11th inning when he took over with the bases loaded and nobody out, Paul Giel weakened in the next inning.

Bob Speake walked with one out and Ransom Jackson singled him to third. Manager Leo Durocher ordered Giel to pass Jim King intentionally, loading the bases. Then came Banks' single to left, driving home Speake and Jackson.

The Giants still weren't finished, driving in the bottom half against reliever Warren Hacker. Mays led off with his 16th homer and Sid Gordon singled Ramon Montant, running for Gordon, took second on a wild pitch, after Gail Harris fled out. Wes Westrum walked as the rain came down to put men on first and second with only one out.

Bobby Hofman, batting for Giel, flied out and Davey Williams flied to Eddie Miksis in center, ending the game.

Galesburg and Joliet each placed two men and Peoria Central landed one player.

The selections:

Ed Blechman (North Chicago) first base.
Wally Mortenson (Schurz) and Paul Wieshoff (Peoria Central) tied in voting for second base.
Mike Ownes (Balesburg) third base.
Casimir Barszcz (Schurz) shortstop.
Gus Botsios (North Chicago) left field.
Bill Smrtnik (North Chicago) center field.
Jim Macy (Joliet) right field.
Ken Glasgow (Joliet), Willie Thompson (North Chicago), Hod Johnson (Galesburg) and Jim Hansen (Schurz) pitchers.

FAN BREEZES

Don Fairfield fired a 74-71-145 to win first place prize money at Lawrenceville this past week. The Casey, Illinois, pro and a former Jacksonville golfer, sank an approach shot on the final hole which gave him a birdie and a two stroke winning margin. First place prize money amounted to $400 Don will try Monday for a National Open spot in the St. Louis qualifying rounds.

We understand the Routh coaching job is still open but Principal George Lehner has had several applications and expects to fill the vacancy before June 15. The Routh school boss will accept applications up until the 10th. Don't be surprised if one of our local grade school mentors gets the job.

Vacation time is here. Sports-caster Barney Lewis left yesterday morning for Mexico. Barney and the Mrs. plan to spend over a week in the South of the border country.

Jacksonville's two finest football centers in years may be opposing each other next fall. Routh's all-conference center Dick Lewis has enrolled at Bradley University while JHS' outstanding linebacker Max Roegge, also an all-loop selection, will be throwing blocks at Valparaiso University. The two schools are scheduled to meet on the gridiron and with a little luck our town could be well represented. Both are fine prospects.

Another Jacksonville football star, Jim Woodward, has enrolled at Illinois College. We also understand Pat Dowling is looking for a place to go to further his education and may choose the local school. Both are three letter winners and will fit in with the program at the Hilltop.

Some 1000 swimmers took a dip in the Nichols Park pool Friday afternoon and evening. Pool manager Don Kirchhofer informs us this was the highest attendance of the season. Several groups have been taking advantage of reasonable rates and are organizing swimming parties. The pool can be rented after the 9:00 closing time.

Swimming lessons, conducted by the local Red Cross and YMCA, get under way tomorrow morning. There will be no night classes during June.

A recent edition of the Martinsville Planet carried a story on the local baseball team. The Martinsville nine lost its first game of the season by the score of 14-2. Ten home runs were hit off the losing hurler. The starting battery for the losers was Comerford and Merris. Need we go any further? Must have been using a "live" ball.

USC PROTESTS TEXAS GOVERNOR AS GRADUATION SPEAKER

LOS ANGELES (P)—A professor at the University of Southern California said Saturday that more than half the faculty at the school will refuse to attend commencement exercises next Saturday if Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas is the principal speaker.

Dr. Russell Caldwell, professor of history, said that 136 faculty members had signed a petition to Dr. Fred D. Fage Jr., USC president, asking that Shivers be replaced.

The faculty group backed the action of the Student Senate. The resolution passed by the student group said in part:

"The historic purpose of a graduation address is to inspire graduating seniors to recognize the importance of tolerance, integrity and intelligence. Governor Shivers has consistently demonstrated lack of these ideals."

Southpaw Allows 7 Scattered Singles; Yanks Now Lead By 4

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO (P)—Eddie Lopat and his pitching junk held the White Sox to seven scattered singles Saturday as the New York Yankees overcame costly errors for a 4-3 victory that opened their league season.

The 37-year-old lefty, gaining his third triumph against four setbacks, was replaced by Tom Morgan at the start of the ninth to face leadoff batter Minnie Minoso. But Minnie, who entered the game in the fourth for his first appearance since suffering a skull fracture in New York May 18 on Bob Grim's pitch, flied out and Morgan got the next two in order.

The Sox jumped off to a lead with two unearned runs in the first inning. They loaded the bases with the help of Lopat's first walk in 24 innings. Then third baseman Andy Carey, fielding Sherm Lollar's grounder, threw over first baseman Bill Skowron's head and two runs were in.

Lopat's stuff continued to bewilder the Sox until the sixth when Jim Rivera led off with a single, stole second and scurried to third after catcher Yogi Berra's toss to second went into centerfield. Walt Dropo's only hit of the game scored Rivera.

The Yankees disposed of starter Bob Keegan, seeking his first victory, with a 3-2 lead in the first four innings.

The Yankees' decisive run in the sixth was off Mike Fornieles. After two outs, Berra singled for his only hit of the game. He moved up when Fornieles hit Skowron with a pitch and came home on Irv Noren's blow to right field.

Furgol, Berg Shoot Over Par On Golf Day

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—National Open champion Ed Furgol fired a two-over-par 72 at the Lake Course of the Olympic Country club Saturday to set the pace for an estimated 180,000 duffers in National Golf Day competition.

Patty Berg, playing with Furgol to establish the women's figure, shot a 77, three over women's par for the very tough course on which the 55th U. S. Open tournament will be played June 16-18.

Hackers from coast to coast who bettered the scores posted by Furgol and Miss Berg will receive medals inscribed "I beat Ed Furgol" or "I beat Patty Berg," as the case may be.

The golfers who match scores with the two top shooters paid $1 each for the privilege. Proceeds will be split between the National Golf Fund and the American Red Cross.

Heavens To Betsy If It Isn't Davy's Ol' Muzzle Loader!

WHITEWRIGHT, Tex. (P)—When Davy Crockett traveled south from the Red River border of Texas to everlasting fame and death at the Alamo, he wanted to travel light.

That's why he traded guns with Andy Thomas.

And that's how Davy's 14-pound, 5-foot muzzle loader happens to belong to J. P. Darwin, 61, a rural mail carrier.

Darwin doesn't know if the gun his grandfather got from Davy is Crockett's famed "Old Betsy."

It could be. For carved in the stock with exquisite care is a lone star, Crockett's own handiwork.

When the Tennessee woodsman decided to come to Texas and join his fight for independence from Mexico, he carved the Texas symbol on his rifle, and had the star inlaid with silver.

The silver has long since disappeared, but the star still is bold on the old wood stock.

The ramrod is missing from the long rifle, and part of the wood is wormeaten.

For years, Darwin kept the rifle out of sight in a closet. But since Davy Crockett has become a national idol for small fry, he's had to fetch it to a handier place for the kids to come and gaze at it in awe.

Darwin admits that showing off the gun has become "quite a bother." So he's going to give it to the Daughters of the Texas Revolution. They'll put it on display at the Alamo, the restored old Spanish mission where Crockett and every one of 188 other Texas fighters for freedom were killed in 1836.

Tony Trabert Cons Net Title

PARIS (P)—Defending champion Tony Trabert of Cincinnati won the French Tennis Championship Saturday with a convincing 2-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Sweden's Sven Davidson, regarded as Europe's best player.

A 23-year-old English girl, Angela Mortimer, captured the women's singles title, winning 2-6, 7-5, 10-8 from Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N. Y.

Joe Conrad Cops British Amateur Golf Championship

By STERLING SLAPPEY
ST. ANNES, England (P)—Joe Conrad, a shy little Texan who never has won a single match in the U. S. Amateur, won the British Amateur golf championship in an angry wind, hail and rainstorm Saturday with a 3 and 2 victory over England's Alan Slater.

The key shot in the rugged fight was on the 27th green. Conrad was sagging badly then, his game coming apart. The Englishman had pulled back from an all but fatal 5 down deficit and at that point was one down. He was playing superb golf.

Both men were on the green with their tee shots. Slater calmly sighted a 20-foot putt and stroked it in for a birdie 2. He must have felt he had squared the match. Then Conrad took his stance facing a 12-footer with a downhill roll.

HONOR PASTOR FOR 60 YEARS CONTINUOUS SERVICE

HILLSBORO, Ill. (P)—The Rev. Ezra Keller, who retired a week ago, will be honored at services Sunday for 60 continuous years as minister of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church. He presided at nearly 1,000 baptisms, 1,500 marriages and 2,200 funerals.

Joe Conrad Cops British Amateur Golf Championship

The little Texan needed that putt to save his lead, to restore his own confidence and to quash Slater's rising hopes. Conrad popped it in and went on to win.

Conrad, a 25-year-old Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio, lost his singles Walker Cup Match against Scotland's David Blair last month at St. Andrews, by one hole. The Americans went on to win the international trophy by 10 matches to 2.

Conrad's victory continues a sequence of Americans winning the British Amateur in years the Walker Cup is contested for in Britain. The Americans have never missed since Jesse Sweetser won the Amateur in 1926 after an American Walker Cup victory.

Slater, 36, was the first English finalist since 1948.

CLAIMS LIVE POLIO VIRUS FOUND IN VACCINE
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Dr. Louis Gebhardt, professor of bacteriology and director of the polio research laboratory at the University of Utah, said Saturday live polio virus has been found in samples of Cutter vaccine received from the Idaho state health department.

He said the virus found was Type 1. He said isolation of the virus supports the contention of Idaho health officials that vaccine contributed to the current polio outbreak in Idaho where 75 cases have been reported this year compared with 15 in the same period of 1954.

Vaccine from Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., was used in Idaho's mass immunization program, which was halted April 27.

Elliott Bank Is Among Oldest In Magazine Tribute

The Elliott State Bank of this city and the First State Bank of Winchester are among 355 Illinois banks 50 years old or more which were honored in the June issue of "Mid-Continent Banker," a regional banking journal published in St. Louis. The issue also contains a historical article on Illinois banking written by R. M. Nolen, professor of economics, University of Illinois.

The Elliott State Bank was founded on Jan. 25, 1866, as a private banking firm with the name Hockenhull, King & Elliott. The Winchester State Bank was established in 1867.

Professor Nolen follows the story of the Prairie State's banking from the days which preceded its entrance into the Union in 1818. He tells of the incorporation of a state-owned and operated bank—State Bank of Illinois—in 1819; how it was poorly managed and, after its charter expired in 1831, how it took years to wind up its affairs. According to the Nolen article, in 1851 a "free banking" system was adopted by a vote of the people, providing for state incorporation, minimum capital of $50,000, supervision and regulation of bank note issues. However, this act failed to help Illinois avoid a period of excesses in the 1850's, followed by financial panic after the outbreak of the Civil War. Professor Nolen writes that the National Banking Act of 1863 received a hearty welcome from the people.

Traces Banking History
The Illinois banking history continues through growth of national banks in Illinois, the adoption of a new constitution in 1870 requiring double liability of all banks, a banking act of 1899 which gave some encouragement to organize state banks. Professor Nolen takes his readers through World War I, the abolition of private banks in 1921, the difficulties Illinois banks faced during the 1920s and through the World War II period, when Illinois banks helped finance business expansion and aided in the government's war borrowing. He points out that today the state's banks, although fewer in number than in previous years, are more liquid and are on a stronger financial basis than in any period in Illinois history.

This tribute to Illinois' 50-year banks was published as part of the year-long golden anniversary observance of Mid-Continent Banker, which is read monthly by bankers in 12 Mississippi Valley and southwestern states, including Illinois.

Large Territory Involved
The Waverly district, according to testimony, is favorable to the movement to attach the old Modesto district to the present Waverly school unit. Several witnesses declared that the Waverly school system can absorb the additional children, estimated to be 26 high school pupils and 85 elementary pupils, without disrupting the schedule or crowding.

Northwestern district officials are fighting the petition on grounds that detachment of the large block of territory would scuttle their present district.

Members of the Morgan County Board of School Trustees are Wallace Hemmrough, chairman; Mrs. Louise Harris, Alfred Hodgson, Roscoe Mawson, Edward Middendorf, Robert Houston and Mrs. Joe Patterson Smith.

State's Attorney Albert W. Hall appeared as representative of the School Trustees. The petitioners are represented by Alton G. Hall and Roger H. Little of the firm of Barber & Barber, Springfield. Attorneys for the objectors are Victor H. Hemphill and Willard Kelsey of Carlville.

Objectors To Be Heard
Objectors did not have their hearing at the first session, but their attorneys indicated that about 30 witnesses are prepared to testify. Four or five more witnesses for the petitioners will be heard at the next session.

Morgan School Board Hears First Evidence On Modesto Petition

The Morgan County Board of School Trustees has before it partial testimony in a territorial issue that has stirred heated interest in the northwest section of Macoupin county, with more testimony scheduled to be heard June 17 in the Morgan county circuit court room.

A petition of a large number of citizens in the Modesto area, asking that their real estate be detached from Northwestern District 2 in Macoupin county, and annexed to Waverly Community Unit 6 in Morgan county, is before the seven member school board of Morgan county whose duty it is to decide the issue.

Directors of the Northwestern district are opposing the petition which if granted would shift property assessed at more than $3,000,000 from one district to another.

A series of three elections at which voters of Northwestern district have failed to choose a site for a new $500,000 high school building, with another election scheduled for June 14, has contributed to the complexities of the territory involved.

150 Attend Hearing
A crowd of about 150 persons from Waverly, Modesto, Scottville, Palmyra, and other communities having an interest in the issue attended the first hearing Friday afternoon at the Morgan county court house over which Wallace Hemmrough, chairman of the Morgan County Board of School Trustees, presided.

Five attorneys were present representing the various groups involved. Testimony was taken in shorthand. The hearing assumed the appearance of a full scale trial with members of the Board of School Trustees occupying the jury box, and legal counsel questioning witnesses for the petitioners.

Six witnesses for the petitioners were heard before time ran out and Chairman Hemmrough announced after a conference with members of the board and attorneys that the hearing would be resumed at 9:30 a. m. June 17 (Daylight Time).

June, throughout the nation, is Dairy Month. It is now that the pastures in the dairy belts of the country are at their finest and when the cows are giving their greatest flow of "Nature's Best Food."

To spur the consumption of milk during the month, producers, processors and retailers are banding together to promote sales campaigns for milk and milk products. The Morgan County meeting was held Wednesday evening at Farm Bureau hall.

HOG PRODUCER SMILES AT MARKET REPORT

A hog producer was recently seen to smile while reading a market report. It may have been the first time such a thing has happened in more than a year.

The hog market news was pretty glum from April 1954 until a few weeks ago. During that long year prices skidded from around $28 a hundred pounds to $16. It is good news to hog producers that prices have finally turned upward. Some recent top prices have been more than $3 above the winter low, and several signs point to still higher prices during June and July.

Market receipts of hogs were relatively heavy during the winter and early spring. Slaughter during January to mid May was 18 percent greater than last year. In order to get the larger amounts of pork moved, retail prices were reduced and marketing margins were increased. Both of these market changes depressed the prices of live hogs.

MARKET SUPPLIES WILL MODERATE. Market supplies of hogs will probably shrink more than usual in June and July. This belief is based on a study of the monthly distribution of 1954 fall farrowings.

The 1954 fall pig crop was nearly 37 million head. This number was 16 percent more than the very small fall crop of the year before, but it was only 3 percent more than the 10-year average, 1943-52. In comparison with our growing population, last fall's pig crop was about 7 percent smaller than average.

The important thing to recall at this time is that the 1954 fall pig crop was farrowed very early. Fifty-five percent of the pigs come during June-August. Numbers of sows farrowing during the first half of the season were 18 percent greater than the 10-year average. The hogs from these farrowings have already moved to market.

By contrast, farrowings during the last half of the 1954 fall season—September-November—were 19 percent smaller than the 10-year average. These small farrowings will furnish most of the market supply of barrows and gilts during the next 60 days.

SMALL INCREASE IN SPRING PIGS. Several surveys indicate that this year's spring pig crop is about 5 to 6 percent larger than that of last year. (1) last December U. S. farmers indicated that they would have 5 percent more sows farrow spring pigs than they had last year; (2) a survey in six principal hog states on March 1 pointed to a 2 to 8 percent increase in spring pigs; (3) farrowings to May 1 in Iowa, the leading hog state, were 4 percent larger than last year.

THE FALL MARKET. These reports on the spring pig crop indicate that market supplies next fall will be moderately larger than they were last fall. Prices, however, may be nearly as high as those of a year earlier. To offset the small increase in pork supplies, consumer demand may be stronger and supplies of competing eggs and poultry smaller than last year. Supplies of competing beef may be a little larger during the fall than they were last year, but this increase is uncertain.

Finally, competition on may squeeze marketing margins for pork, which were unusually wide last fall to more nearly normal size, and this could support prices of live hogs even though retail prices are reduced in order to move the larger supply.

By way of review, prices of barrows and gilts at eight markets averaged $20 last September, $18.80 in October, and $18.60 in November.

Duener presided. He expressed hopes of developing ways of promoting milk consumption during the month.

Kamm reviewed the problems of today's dairy farmer and asserted, "Our problem is under-consumption. We have a perfect food to sell. You can get fat, or thin, or cure ulcers—all with milk."

Stocker traced the great strides that have been made in this area since the enactment of the Grade A milk ordinance in Jacksonville. "It was a mighty fine thing," he asserted. "To the housewife it is a guaranteed standard of quality. Dairymen are more efficient and the consumer gets a clean, disease-free and healthful product."

Stocker blamed much of the dairyman's troubles on the 90% of parity supports that were reduced to 75% in April, 1954, by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Tait Benson. "The 90% of parity supports has caused a tremendous pile-up of butter, cheese and dried milk," Stocker declared. "Through increased sales promotion during the past 13 months there is more fluid milk sold now and considerably more butter and cheese. It is now being consumed rather than wasted."

Logsdon showed a colored film showing how cheese may be used to prepare tasty dishes from appetizer to dessert.

Mayor Hoagland expressed his thanks for "the wonderful cooperation the dairymen of this area have demonstrated with the city's Grade A milk ordinance. Now anyone that buys milk in Jacksonville knows he is getting a pure, clean and fine food."

"I thank you and pledge my ever possible assistance in promoting the sale of milk and milk products—real health foods—during Dairy Month."

Following the program refreshments of ice cream and milk were served.

A Straight-Through Trench Silo

A trench silo that is open at both ends would seem to have some advantages over a trench with a single opening. Such a trench was dug through a "hog back" ridge on the Station, and one end is now being filled with Ladino and fescue forage, but mainly Ladino. We proposed to fill the other end with corn this fall with the idea of feeding from both ends. Corn silage will supply the energy and Ladino silage the protein. The two fed together should make supplementary feeds—either protein or energy feeds—unnecessary.

DDT for Flies on Beef Cattle

Cattle on the Station are being sprayed with DDT to control horn flies. George Cmarik, cattle researcher, uses 8 pounds of 50 percent wettable powder in 100 gallons of water. One spraying will last for three to four weeks if cattle are wet well with about 1/2 gallon of spray per cow.

Bulls Going In

Breeding groups are being made up and bulls are being put on pasture with the cows. All cows on the Station are pasture bred, the bulls remaining in only two to three months. Well-grouped calving dates, simplify herd management. George Cmarik says 25 to 35 cows are enough for one bull if the calves are to be dropped in a reasonably short period. For herds with more than one bull, George recommends breeding on separate pastures rather than putting both or all bulls on a single pasture with the entire herd.

Topping Out Market Lambs

Early in June most market lamb producers will have some lambs carrying enough finish and weight to market. Jack Lewis, assistant superintendent, plans to top out station lambs weighing at least 85 pounds and grading choice. Unless pastures and weather are exceptional, it is usually difficult to market sufficiently fat lambs after July 1. Often lambs that are fat in June will lose condition with the onset of hot weather and poorer pastures.

U. S. DEMANDS CLEAN WHEAT

The U.S. Food and Drug administration is bearing down on farmers and elevator men by insisting on clean wheat. The government has the power to condemn and seize any wheat that doesn't meet standards. It can sell the wheat for animal feed and the owner of the wheat loses the difference. It can close down an elevator until it's cleaned up.

Elevator operators are taking steps to protect themselves. John H. Powers, manager of the Woodson Farmers Elevator company, is shown with a new device that helps him determine the condition of any sample of wheat. A pint of the grain is metered out on a draper of white plastic and all impurities show up at a glance.

Current standards permit no more than two rodent pellets per pint or 2% insect damage. Everything with more impurities may be seized by the government and labelled unfit for human consumption.

Tests Prove Hogs Like, And Thrive, On Good Pastures

URBANA—Good hog pastures will cut feed costs.

Dick Carlisle, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that legume hog pastures are protein savers. A good legume pasture may cut your protein cost by 1/3 to 1/2.

Legume pastures supply pigs with protein, vitamins and minerals, Carlisle says. In a series of five tests conducted at Illinois and Michigan an acre of alfalfa used as hog pasture saved 13 bushels of corn and 1,200 pounds of protein supplement compared with drylot feeding. That's about $80 worth of feed.

In a Purdue test, hogs on Ladino clover ate only half as much protein supplement as hogs on alfalfa. Rotation forage crops for hogs improve sanitary conditions, too, the specialist says. One of the best ways to control diseases and parasites is to change pasture locations every year.

Hogs on forage are also more thrifty and vigorous than hogs in drylot. This is probably one reason why hogs on forage show such capacity for rapid gains. This thriftiness is insurance against breeding failures and pig losses for gilts you want to add to the breeding herd.

The Town Reporter-

Public Library Opens Summer Reading Game

By Loella Sloan Young
Hello! Boys and girls! Today we start a new column. I hope you will like it and feel free to let me know about any summer activities which we could write about.
Perhaps other boys and girls will be interested in doing the same thing. Either wrap us a card, to the Junior Journal-Courier, or call 983X.
Yesterday, I spent a very pleasant afternoon with Miss Conner your librarian. If you haven't met her or taken advantage of the wonderful hours of reading which her department offers, you just don't know what you are missing.

Johnny Applesed Contest
While I was there Miss Conner told me about the summer reading fun which awaits all of you. The theme this year is: "Be A Johnny Applesed—Plant A Tree By Reading."

I'm sure you all have heard about that wonderful character Johnny Applesed, who traveled about the land planting apple seeds and spreading his peace and good will. Even Walt Disney has produced a new movie about this lovable little fellow.

"Grow" Own Tree
In the reading course, you must read a book, any book, to plant your tree. Then you will be registered and given a little green paper tree with your own special number on it. For each story book you read, you will "grow" one green apple on your little tree.

For each true story, such as great men and women, history, or stories of other lands, you will grow a red apple. Then for every ten books, two of which must be true stories, you will "grow" a yellow apple.

Diplomas To Come
At the end of the summer, all those who have yellow apples, will receive a diploma.
You will have all summer to read. When you have finished a

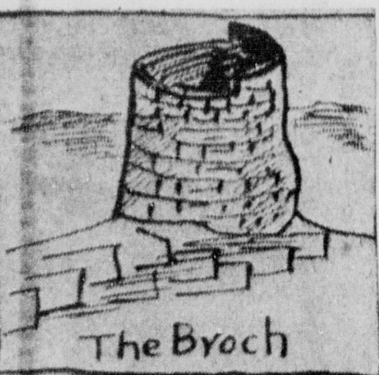

By Hugh M. Jones
Scotland—from Inverness to bonny Dundee—a land of heather, fog, and mystery!

In the early days, Scotland was a wild, rugged country, a land of the wildcat and the eagle, of towering rocky cliffs, and surf pounding against granite boulders.

Watch the majestic golden eagle as he soars over the highland crags. He and his ancestors have watched over Scotland for centuries.

They were lifted by the winds of freedom as they flew over the Scottish moors. They know that the winds of freedom always have and always will blow over the lands of the brave Scottish peoples.

Call Of Freedom
The sound of solemn music comes from the highland hills—"That," says the eagle, "is the trumpet of Scotland sounding the call of freedom!"

Ask the eagle what threatened the freedom of early Scotsmen, and he will whisper, "Pirates, pirates!"
The year is now 80 A. D. The eagle glides through the darkening skies toward a high brick tower that stands at the edge of the North Sea. It is a round tower whose bricks are worn and weather-beaten, but a tower whose body has the strength of granite.

The tower is called a broch; it has a sturdy door and no windows; it is a place to hide in time of danger.

book, Miss Conner will ask you several simple questions about it. If you are able to answer them, you have "grown" an apple on your tree.

Magic Books
There are even books of magic. Wouldn't it be fun to stage your own magic show, or to have the whole neighborhood produce a little play, from the many children's plays written with that thought in mind.

Oh, the whole idea fills me with delight. I just know your little trees will fairly burst with golden yellow apples.

Surprise!
Finally, Miss Conner whispered that there may be an additional surprise for all you readers who have golden apples!

So, make it a point to go to the library as soon as possible; choose a book, and get started toward your own tree of apples. For you too, can be a Johnny Applesed!

Danger Near
A trumpet is sounded. "Run for the tower!" shout the people. "It is the Norsemen!" The twenty villagers run to the tower, open the door, run up the spiral staircase that leads to the tower on the top. Some of the Scots peer out at the Norsemen who, with drawn swords, are looking grimly up and down the coast.

Run After Boy
They see a boy—one of the villagers—they run after him. The boy hadn't heard the warning; he won't be able to make the tower in time.

Suddenly a huge eagle swoops down and circles the Norsemen; in the moment that they stop to watch the mighty bird, the boy makes it to the door. The door is rapidly opened and just as rapidly closed.

Will Door Hold
The Norsemen rush to the tower, they cannot open the door as a volley of spears falls on them from the tower.

The Norsemen look up, but they only see the spears hurtling down at them. Many of their men drop to the ground.

With looks of disgust, the Norse leave the coast without plunder and without putting any Scotsmen into slavery.

The Shower Bath

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Do you remember the story I told you about the naughty Mockingbird in my garden? He tried to claim the whole garden for himself and chased other birds away until they bluffed him out and he left.

He didn't know what wise boys and girls know, that they should try to get along with others.

Now I want to tell you an entirely different story, a story of "getting along together" or of "having fun together." This by the way, is a true story.

One hot afternoon when I got home from school, I went out into my garden to find whether I needed to put more water in the bird bath. I knew that the birds would be just as hot and thirsty as I was and that the only way they could get a drink was from the bird bath.

What A Surprise!

What a surprise I found! There was plenty of water in the large bowl. In the middle of the water sat Robin Redbreast having the time of his life.

He was all spread out so that he looked twice as large as when he had run around on the ground looking for worms to eat. The beautiful red feathers on his breast were so fluffed out that he looked almost like a feather duster with a head.

How He Splashes

Up and down he churned his wings, splashing water in every direction. When you were babies, you used to love to splash water all over everything when you took a bath didn't you?

Now I suppose that your little brothers and sisters do the same thing. Robin Redbreast did the same thing also; he splashed and splashed to his heart's content. But that wasn't all. On the edge of the birdbath sat a Cardinal, the bird which you often call the red bird.

Cardinal Has Fun Too

He was having the time of his life. He was getting a free shower-bath. There he sat with his bright red crest cocked high, his beautiful red wings outspread to catch the falling drops of water that Robin Redbreast splashed on him. And he quivered his wings for joy as he shook off the cool drops of water.

If Mr. Robin Redbreast took a little time to rest, Cocky Cardinal (let's call him) would look at him to say, "Please, Mr. Robin, send me another spray of water."

Robin Is Puzzled

Then Mr. Robin would give him a curious look and send him another shower. Cocky Cardinal was then contented. And his bath was certainly drier than his playmate's.

Was Robin Redbreast having fun with a playmate? It seemed so. At least he wasn't lonely.

He Wasn't Lazy

Anyway, I know he wasn't lazy. When Robin Redbreast finally got tired of splashing and soaking in the water, he gave one final big splash, looked Cocky Cardinal over, and flew away.

Immediately Cocky Cardinal slipped into Robin Redbreast's place, splashed lustily three times, and also flew away. I suppose that he wasn't going to let Mr. Robin outdo him.

The nicest thing of all was that Robin Redbreast and Cocky Cardinal had fun together. Don't you think so?

With one long last look at the sleeping puppies, the boys climbed into their beds and fell fast asleep. It was late afternoon when they awakened. Billy ran to the window to see his beloved puppy.

HOPPER & HAMM

"Cock-A-Doodle-Do!" - HOPPY RUNS AWAY

By Loella Sloan Young

Rocky, the big red rooster, opened one eye and blinked. Sleepily he stretched and hopped off the roost.

What a night! What a night! Those new pups had cried and howled the whole night long, and he couldn't get a wink of sleep.

Slowly he walked outside, jumped on the fence and flapping his wings called, "Cock-a-doodle-doo! Cock-a-doo—Squawk!!!" he screamed.

He had just braced himself for another call, when two little brown balls of fur came flying at the fence as though determined to tear him limb from limb.

"Yip, Yip, Yip!" shouted Hoppy. "Yap, Yap, Yap!" echoed Skippy.

And then for a moment it seemed as though they would go wild barking and growling. "Hi! Skip!" greeted Billy from his window.

"Leave Rocky Alone!" "Get away and leave Rocky alone!" laughed Billy. "He's supposed to wake us up every morning."

"Yip, Yip, Yap, Yap," barked the pups, as they danced wildly around under the window. They seemed to be saying, "Come out and play with us."

It didn't take Billy and George long to dress and fly outside. Mother shook her head and laughed as they streaked through the kitchen.

Breakfast for two boys would just have to wait this morning. After all it wasn't every day you had two new puppies waiting outside to play.

Fun With Pups
And play they did! It was such fun for the boys and for the pups too. They ran around the house romping and tumbling.

Billy stuffed an old sock so Skippy could tug and pull on it, and George found a little collar and a rope to lead Hoppy. They played hard all morning, and by noon both boys and dogs were tired and hungry.

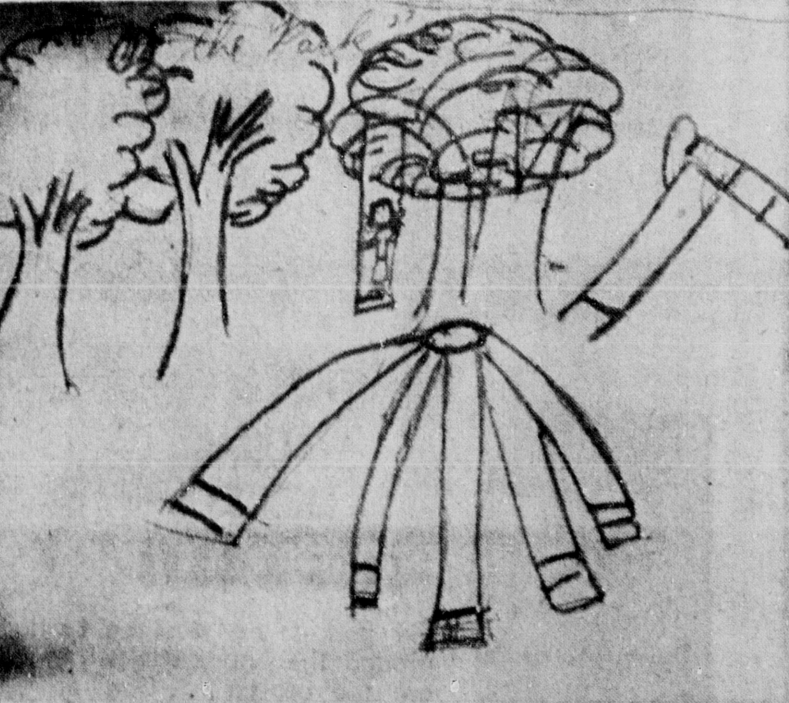

Mother gave Billy a big bowl of milk and told him to place it near the dog house for the puppies to drink.

Puppies Take Naps
At last, with their tummies as full and round as balls, they curled up together in the dog house and went to sleep.

"Now," said Mother, "while the puppies take their naps, you must take your naps. So off to bed with you."

With one long last look at the sleeping puppies, the boys climbed into their beds and fell fast asleep. It was late afternoon when they awakened. Billy ran to the window to see his beloved puppy.

"Happy Is Gone"
"George," he called, "Wake up! My Skippy is out there, but your Happy is gone!"

The little girl in the swing looks as if she's having a very fine time, don't you think she does? And the other play equipment makes us want to get out there and have fun too, doesn't it? I wonder if the little girl is Beth.

POTATOES

Probably the most important single vegetable in the world today is the potato.

The potato, as far as we know, probably originated in South America near the Andes Mountains.

The country of Peru, where the Inca Indians lived, has many wild varieties of potatoes that closely resemble the modern potato.

The Incas dehydrated many of their potatoes by spreading them in the sun to dry out. They then were able to store them for long periods of time.

Potato Goes To Ireland

Sir John Hawkins in 1565, or Sir Walter Raleigh in 1586 brought the potato to Ireland from South America. Here the potato became a very important crop.

The potato then spread to other countries, but since it was used so much in Ireland, it was nicknamed the "Irish Potato."

In 1719 Irish immigrants brought it to the United States. These people settled at Londonderry, New Hampshire.

The potato plants grown in those days didn't produce nearly as many potatoes as our modern varieties do, and they were not as good to eat.

If you would like to know more about some fruit or vegetable, write to the Junior Journal-Courier and Gus will tell you lots about it.

JUNE
By Dorris Walsh Hendrickson

How did June get its name? Perhaps it was named for the young people, (Juniors), and certainly it is a month they enjoy!

Some say the month was named to honor Junius Brutus, who was the first Consul of Rome.

A very pretty explanation is that June was named for Juno the wife of Jupiter who was the king of the Romans' gods.

June's Flower
The fragrant honeysuckle is the flower of June. And the striped agate is the stone of June. It is supposed to mean health and long-life.

About a year ago a coroner's jury recommended that a sign bearing the rules of safe boating be erected at Lake Mauwaister. There's one there now.

It was put up by Boy Scouts Troop 108 of Salem Lutheran church as a public service. Now the Scouts are at work on a second one to be placed near the boat dock of Lake Jacksonville.

The troop worked in conjunction with Alderman Allen Kelly and the rules are those suggested by the U. S. Coast Guard altered to fit local conditions.

The sign reads:
RULES FOR BOATING!
1. Have an approved life preserver for everyone aboard.
2. Do not leave shore in a leaky or poorly built boat.
3. Do not overload the boat.
4. Carry a set of paddles or oars to use in case of motor failure.

Adm. Radford Enters Second Term As Chairman Of Chiefs Of Staff With Reputation As Tough Guy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford will enter his second two-year term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff with a reputation as the "tough guy" among American military leaders.

His name even crops up in the talk of a rock 'em, sock 'em school reputedly convinced the United States should smash Red China to halt Communist expansion in Asia; and that it could be done without igniting World War III.

The talk has grown to such proportions that Radford, on recent occasions, has taken the trouble to deny he has any war-like attitude. And his friends say such talk is sheer nonsense.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Wilson have displayed complete confidence in Radford as an adviser. Eisenhower made his own position clear when he announced Radford will keep his job for another two years. His present term expires Aug. 15.

But the talk about Radford has persisted. Why has the 59-year-old admiral been singled out as the chip-on-the-shoulder influence among all the top military leaders? Just how much influence does he have in shaping U. S. foreign policy?

It's an intriguing story because only a handful of people in the administration really knows where State Department diplomacy ends and Pentagon policy begins.

There are some who say it is Radford who has put "backbone" in the administration's Far Eastern policy and influenced a tougher attitude, although the admiral insists the policy making is the responsibility of civilians and not the military.

None deny the admiral is in a strong position to influence policy. He sees the President sometimes two and three times a week. He sits in on important policy-making meetings. He has ample opportunity to press his views not only through the President but also through Secretary Wilson and Secretary of State Dulles. This becomes doubly important where there may be differences of opinion among the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Radford's critics contend he has encouraged the administration in a policy which they claim ties the military to the use of atomic weapons. They say the United States now has no choice but to use nuclear weapons because the policy in effect rules out a "localized war."

Further, they say, Radford is willing, and has been willing, to commit military force in situations which they claim inevitably would mean commitment of ground forces on a scale which the Army is not prepared to furnish and still carry out its mission in other parts of the world.

Radford insists that neither he nor any other member of the JCS has taken a warlike attitude or favored preventive war against the Communists—that is, attacking now while the atomic balance is presumed to be on our side.

In this connection, he said in answer to a list of questions: "The Joint Chiefs of Staff have had considerable experience in past wars and probably know better than anyone the real meaning of the impact of war. I really do not believe you could have a group of men who are more dedicated to the cause of peace and the prevention of war than the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

"Sometimes the fact that we have to deal constantly with critical situations and work on military matters seems to give some people the notion that we would probably like nothing better than a good war some place. I can tell you that such is not the case."

The admiral's supporters argue that much of the criticism comes from sources whose views on modern warfare are limited, and from those who do not have his understanding of the capability of our armed forces as they are now constituted under the "new loom."

They point out that only the President can authorize the use of atomic weapons—the military.

One officer in a position to follow Radford's actions as chairman of the JCS had this to say: "Radford is no saber rattler. He doesn't want war. But he does think that firmness now will avoid war later. Too many people have misinterpreted his attitude of firmness as being warlike."

"I know Radford thinks we should be ready to do what we say we will do. He thinks unless we back up our words with actions, then the Reds will keep pushing us back further each time until there is no choice left but war."

"He believes that from a military standpoint we don't have to retreat because we have the military capability to do whatever we want to do in backing up our foreign diplomacy."

Radford has made it clear in the past that he regards Red China as being vastly overrated as a military power. He told an interviewer recently: "I continue to be amazed at the credulity of so many people in accepting the theme of Chinese Communist strength. It is indeed an amazing paradox that an offensive posture can be maintained and initiative achieved with no real substance to back it up."

In this connection, Radford was asked: "Would you say you have favored a tougher policy in the Far East than other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff?"

He replied: "No, I wouldn't. It is possible that a greater interest in Far East matters has been attributed to me personally, due to my past association and assignments in the Far East area. I can assure you that my interests and my responsibilities, just as in the case of the other members of the JCS, are global. It just so happens that the aggressive actions of the Chinese (Chinese Communists) in Korea, the Formosa Straits, and Indochina have focused a good deal of everyone's attention on those local hotspots."

Radford's tough-guy reputation has grown from a series of events reaching back to post-World War II days when he stepped forward as a critic of unification of the armed forces and then became a central figure in the story "admirals' revolt" against the Air Force program to build up the B36 as the nation's strategic bomber.

His friends say he fought the B36 program because he thought the Navy's air strength was in danger of being nibbled away, and that he felt too much reliance was being placed on one weapon.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, when he was chairman of the JCS, angrily denounced as "fancy dans" the admirals who opposed the program which Congress finally approved. Later, it is said Bradley and Radford patched up their quarrel.

But Radford and his friends did succeed in blocking those opposed to further construction of Navy carriers, and in this sense he won his fight.

First Novel Greatest Success
Author Thomas Mann Says

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

ERLENBACH, Switzerland (UP)—Author Thomas Mann, turning 80 years old, says his first novel, written 54 years ago, was the "finest success of my life."

Mann, one of the greatest living writers and winner of the 1929 Nobel prize in literature, will be 80 on June 6.

Looking back on a long and productive life, he said in an interview that his first novel, "Buddenbrooks," gave him "the necessary self confidence as an author."

But the book also started a controversy which, formally ended only a few weeks ago.

The book depicted the degeneration of a staid, well-to-do family in the old German port city of Luebeck, where Mann was born the son of a highly respected senator.

It offended some of the city's leading families, and for years they treated the author as a renegade.

Last month, however, the 700-year-old city made Mann an honorary citizen, and the leading families turned out for the ceremony.

Mann told the audience he had the "impossible and quite irrational" wish that his father could have witnessed the ceremony "to see his son made good after all." His father died when Mann was 15 and had just flunked school examinations.

He decided to return to Europe in 1953 after spending 15 years in the United States.

Mann emigrated to the United States before the war, and became an American citizen. Since the spring of 1953, he and his wife, Katja—with whom he celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last February—and his daughter, Erka, have been occupying the upper floor of a small, two-story house overlooking the Lake of Zurich.

Asked about the reasons for his return to Europe, Mann answered:

"I just felt that I had never uprooted myself completely and that I was still a European at heart. I also felt a certain loneliness after so many of my closest friends in California had died."

"I chose Switzerland as my new abode," he said, "because we spent some very good years in this country before the war, and because it has been less subject to change than other parts of Europe."

Since coming here, Mann has completed an expansion of "The Krull," a small volume which originally appeared in 1910.

Our Graduates!

Each Spring when Nature bedecks her flowers in their gayest and loveliest rainment, she gives us still another wondrous crop: youth that is blossoming into young-man-and-womanhood. These are our graduates, those sturdy and irrepressible boys and girls to whom all the great world is just unfolding. With diplomas in their hands and high hopes in their hearts, they step up or out of their educational environment and become a little maturer toward the old yet ever young process of living. Ah, Alma Mater, how we shall miss your cloistered halls, our patient teachers and our host of friends! Greet life with your head high and a song in your soul, dear Graduates. You have done well in your classrooms. You will do well on whatever roadway of life you choose to travel. This is our prayer. You are the hope of America! God bless every one of you!

Thousands Of Las Vegas Families Try To Lead Normal Lives To Click Of Roulette Wheel

By BILL BECKER and GENE HANDSAKER

LAS VEGAS (P) — Yes, it's true what they say about Las Vegas. On one side it's probably the most garish, gaudy, gamed, get-rich-quick city since Gomorrah. On the other, it can be a hand-to-mouth Tabacco Road. But how about the unpublishable in-between? At last count there were nearly 25,000 people in this boom town of 55,000 who depended neither on legalized gambling nor on government handouts for subsistence. They try to lead an orderly life.

How well do they succeed? It depends on where you're from and how much you're willing to compromise. If games of chance are morally improper in your book, then Las Vegas is probably not for you.

Yet, though it's a commonplace to see housewives put down shopping bags to take a whirl at the dice or card tables or slot machines, there are many who never set foot inside a gambling house.

Offhand, to the casual visitor, it seems a crazy town to live in. But residents insist it can be done once you get away from the Strip—a row of ornate casinos where the world's brightest entertainment stars hold forth — and Fremont Street — the main drag where honkytonks and gambling clubs vie for the silver of the smaller bet-

How do you raise a family in a town where most groceries and drugstores have slot machines to take your stray change?

"When you bring up kids where they can watch gambling through the window," one longtime resident, a former juvenile officer, maintains, "it has no more allure than a meat market."

Clergymen and youth officers agree that the juvenile delinquency rate is less than in many comparable cities. They credit gambling houses with keeping minors out.

All Strip hotel guards, for example, are sheriff's deputies. A club can lose its license if a minor is found gambling.

But the pitfalls are present, 24 hours a day. It is a rare weekend, the Rev. Joseph Baldus, assistant pastor of St. Anne's Roman Catholic Church, says, that he doesn't consult with a father or mother whose gambling is eating holes in the family budget.

A Methodist minister, the Rev. Donald O'Connor, father of two, says parents have to spend more time with their children interpreting what they see.

The same basic appeal has drawn hundreds of Mormon families from Utah and scores of seekers like Charles R. (Pop) Squires, the oldest resident. "I liked Las Vegas when it was just a railroad tent city in 1905," it's a better town than ever."

Squires says he's not a gambling man, but adds: "Where would this town be without gambling? I can't tell you where the limit is. I doubt if anyone knows, the way the money keeps coming."

Banker Reed Whipple, city councilman and Mormon Church leader, answers that one confidently: the boom is bound to last at least two years more and the population may double again in 10 years. It has gone from 25,000 to 55,000 in five years.

Five luxury hotel-casinos and scores of motels and stores are under construction. There are already seven Strip resort hotels valued at 55 million dollars and employing 4,000 people. Some 3,500 are employed in downtown casinos and hotels.

There are nearly 300 motels in the area, supporting perhaps 3,000 persons.

The number of persons dependent, directly or indirectly, on gambling is estimated at 21,000 persons. In another year it may be 30,000.

What about the dingy side? Nevada, says the FBI, has the highest crime and suicide rate in the nation. Las Vegas employs three times as many police as most cities its size. Bad checks bring most arrests; burglary is second. Liquor consumption is 208 per cent above the national average. Prostitution is an incessant problem.

Gambling itself is honestly operated, close observers agree. Paul McDermott, a member of the Nevada Tax Commission, says cheating is a minor problem in the big houses. The house is satisfied with the percentages working in its favor. As McDermott observes, "If you could beat those tables they wouldn't be there."

Where Nevada falls short may be in its health and welfare services. The lack of state taxes has forced the state to rely on federal funds more heavily than any other. Living conditions for Las Vegas' growing Negro population — now over 6,000 — until this year were squalid. Now housing projects have helped.

Hospitals and schools are lagging. All grammar schools are being run on a double-session basis.

In all, Las Vegas has 52 churches with 18,620 members. While below the national average of 55 per cent, churchmen claim the membership percentage of better than 33½ per cent tops the Los Angeles area.

Although the Mormons and the Methodists, to name just two examples, put gambling in the forbidden category, few voices are raised publicly against gaming.

Della Philathea At Roodhouse Has Final Meet

ROODHOUSE — The Della Philathea class of the Baptist church closed the meetings for the season with a potluck supper served in the fellowship room of the church on Thursday evening with the committee in charge of arrangements. Recorded music was played over the church's new public speaking system throughout the dinner hour by the pastor, Rev. H. L. Janvrin. Invocation was given by Mrs. Janvrin. The program concluded with a reading, an excerpt from the novel, "Life with Father" given by Jane Sullivan.

The president, Mrs. Lee Elliott, conducted the business. It was announced that the sum of $31.90 was cleared on the recent teacher banquet, and that the church plate sale amounts to $72 and the stationery sale, $50 to date. The president

CARS ARE MY LINE
by: E. W. Brown

Everyone remembers the crazy days just after the war when people were standing around with fistfuls of money willing to pay more for a used car than a new one (since they couldn't buy a new one anyway).

Even then, the old law of supply and demand hadn't been repealed. Cars sold easily, but there were fewer to sell. Now, there are lots of cars, but you work harder to move them.

Sure, there were used car dealers in those days who cleaned up. But then as now the basic rules of the new car dealer remain. A new car dealer like ourselves is in the used car business only to make it easier to sell new cars, to provide a market and an incentive for people to trade. The rule of thumb is that you make NO money out of the used car side of the business.

But what a funny business! With used cars you're handling a product that's falling in value every day. About a dollar a day according to industry cost accountants who have made a study of it. And you say, "I'll just wait 100 days and save $100 on the car I liked. No, I'm afraid the rules work for everyone. We won't hang on to a used car for 100 days — why make it more of a losing business. And the car YOU have is dropping a dollar a day too.

And despite all the new cars on the street strange things are happening in the new car business. A national survey showed that in 1950 the average profit in the business was a modest 6.6 per cent. Last year it was down to 6 per cent. Yes, I said POINT six — six tenths of one percent.

No, we're not weeping, but we do think that if we claim to know something about cars, and I think we do, you should know something about us.

By Going Along Reporter Finds Its Tough Job To Refuel Jet In Air

By BARCLAY BAYLEY
Of the Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — It's a fascinating, extremely delicate operation to refuel a B47 jet bomber from a tanker plane.

Accompanying one of the day-long missions flown regularly from Lincoln Air Force Base teaches you that. The biggest impression is one of wonder that it can be done at all.

It's like trying to spear a cork bobbing in a mountain stream, with a long piece of wire. The refueling operation has the added risk of at least three lives and several million dollars worth of airplane.

The best way to picture such a mission is to go on one. I did. Here's what happened.

You arrive at the base, eyes full of sleep. The seven-man crew, however, is wide awake. They were there two hours before, at 5 a.m., checking every inch of the plane.

Everything is up to snuff. You meet the crew. Young, full of confidence.

There's the commander of the KC97, Capt. Stanley M. Callan of Custer, S. D. The co-pilot, 1st Lt. Campbell McPherson of St. Louis. There's the navigator, 1st Lt. Victor J. Reinhardt of New Ulm, Minn. — he tells them where they're going.

There's the flight engineer, T. Sgt. Wallace E. Jones of Evansville, Ind., who faces a bewildering array of knobs, dials and switches that watch and control the plane's power, fuel, heat and at least a million other things.

There's the radioman, S. Sgt. James E. Barga of Versailles, Ohio, and finally the two refueling-boom operators, A. 1. C. Albert Little, Eau Claire, Minn., and his assistant, A. 1. C. Joseph B. Harper, Vienna, Ill., they hold the key to the mission's success or failure.

You head for Garden City, Kan., 300 miles away, then swing back up into Nebraska about 150 miles west of Lincoln. In this area you rendezvous with a B47. It will take on fuel from your tanker.

You could have met him 3,000 miles away over Canada, South America or the middle of an ocean—the Strategic Air Command has long arms.

The planes find each other through a combination of radio messages and radar. Everything is on time.

The graceful, wicked-looking six-jet bomber begins to maneuver into position behind the tanker. It's tough. The bomber is so much faster than the tanker its pilot has to let down his flaps as brakes.

Lying on his stomach in the rear of the tanker, the boom operator peers intently through his "bay window" in the floor. He watches the shark-nose of the jet inch toward his plane.

As the B47 gets closer, the action of the air currents becomes apparent. The boom sways gently from side to side. It can be moved through a quarter-circle from front to back. It can be telescoped to 10 feet or extended to nearly 20 feet by hydraulic pressure. Any time the swaying, bobbing receiver plane exceeds the limit the fuel flow shuts off and the boom disconnects.

The quiet, sure voice of the boom operator prompts the jet's pilot "up six feet, right four—up three, left 10." Somehow the B47 pilot also manages to watch a panel of red and green lights on the underside of the tanker. They, too, guide him to a hook-up.

The boom operator is following the jet. First left, then right. He extends the boom, then quickly draws it back as the jet lunges ahead.

The tanker pilot holds his 83-ton plane as steady as human hands can.

The probing boom of the tanker hovers inches from the off-center trapdoor through which the jet gets its fuel. The bomber slides to the right, the boom quickly follows.

Trap door and boom are in line. The boom operator moves a lever. The long pole extends. Its nozzle hits the upturned cover of the door and slides in to connect with a startling klank like two boxcars coupling.

The assistant boom operator notes the time. The boom operator waits with hands on his controls, ready to move his boom away from the jet the second they disconnect.

The flight engineer is told to start fuel pumping into the jet. It rushes through the boom and into thirsty tanks in the big bomber.

Over the radio, the boom man calls out the position of the boom to the jet pilot. "Boom 34 degrees, right 10 degrees, extended 14 feet."

The three-man crew of the jet listens carefully. A mistake could wreck either plane.

The fuel pumps steadily into the jet.

Clang, thud, the boom and plane separate. It was automatic. The boom had disconnected itself. Again the planes come closer.

Again they hook up. This time just for seconds. Then they connect again and the rest of the fuel is transferred. More practice runs are made.

Finally the day's practice is over for the jet. He disconnects, says a polite "thank you," and in one tremendous swoop, is out of sight toward home base.

Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today.

You want facts, don't you? And not ours. Facts instead from an independent, outside source where the only things that count are who came in first, second, and so on. Here they are—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places! None of its major competition (what competition?) even finished "in the money"!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first! Way, way ahead—as in sales!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. After running the fastest qualifying round (with a new car) Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet . . . and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

THE WIND STORM OF MAY 26th WAS PROOF OF THE PUDDING

During the past several months, our crews have been engaged in repairing, improving, and trimming branches from our power distribution lines.

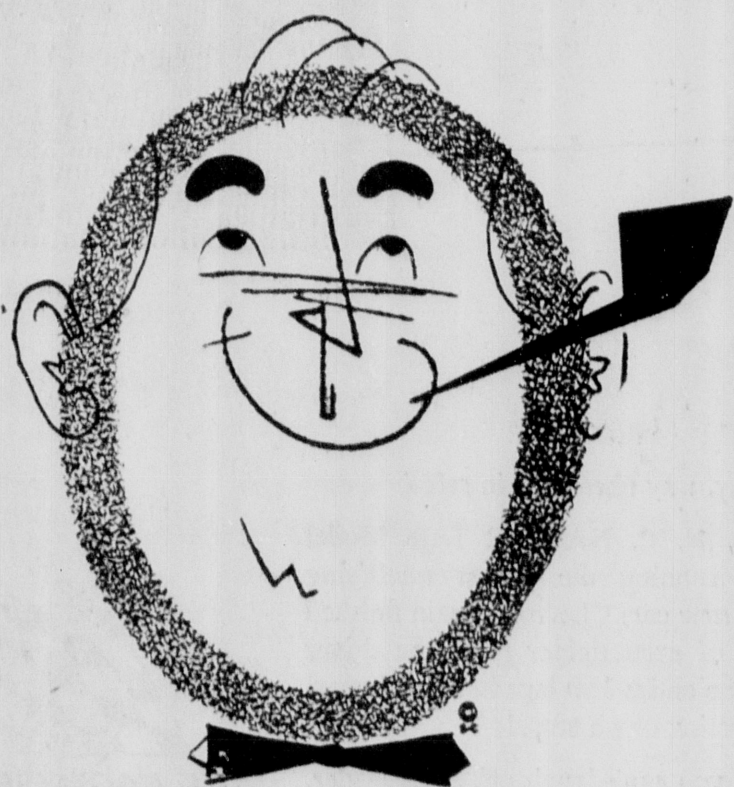

This planning paid off when the storm struck. Our lines suffered very little damage although trees and branches fell all around.

True, a very small portion of customers did experience a short interruption of service; but service was quickly restored.

This is factual proof that you can expect superior electrical power and service in the near future from your City Water, Light, and Power Dept.

Two Jacksonville Men On Staff Of Camp Illinek

Richard W. Newell, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee of the Abraham Lincoln Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced today that plans for the opening of Camp Illinek on Lake Springfield on June 19th are progressing rapidly. In addition to a full aquatic program of swimming, life saving, rowing, and canoeing, the other program areas of Camp will be improved. The Scoutcraft Department will be available to help teach the boys the hiking and camping skills necessary for advancement. Through the cooperation of Mr. George M. Oliver, Commissioner of Public Property, additional areas around Lake Springfield will be available for hikes and camping trips. The Lincoln Memorial Garden Foundation has made their property available for nature study and overnight camping.

The Field Sports Department will be improved by the addition of a new shelter for the rifle range. New guns have been added to both the rifle and moose-ket ranges. New areas will be developed for range archery, field archery, and bait casting.

The Black Sea may have been so called because its waters appear black during heavy winter fogs.

Brown and yellow colors in marble usually result from oxide of iron in the stone.

IT'S THE VICE PRESIDENT—Vice Pres. Richard M. Nixon seems to have taken up a new profession in this photo just made available exclusively to United Press and NEA Service. The photo was made on May 25 at a dinner and reception in Nixon's honor at the Spanish Embassy by Ambassador Jose Maria de Arellano. Nixon posed behind cardboard figures of a bullfighter and a bull, Coney Island style.

FLYER AND PARENTS—U.S. Air Force Capt. Harold Fischer, center, Swea City, Iowa, walks arm-in-arm with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fischer, Sr., after their reunion at Hickam Field, Honolulu, Hawaii. Pittsfield Legion Auxiliary Elects New Officers

PITTSFIELD—The American Legion Auxiliary met Thursday night, at which time the following officers were elected: president, Miss Mabel Willsey; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Frances Spangenberg; 2nd vice-president, Kathleen Orrill; treasurer, Mrs. Hester Norton; Secretary, Gertrude Mink; Chaplain, Mrs. Myrtle Chappell; historian, Mrs. Edith Niebur; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Beulah Troutner and assistant Mrs. Pearl Ghrist.

A report of the poppy sale was made and stated that about 1,600 poppies were sold with cash returns of nearly $200. The group voted upon their project for June and July. In June they will send items to Norbury Sanatorium in Jacksonville and the State hospital, which have been suggested by them as needed. For their July project they will send a supply of cellophane wrapped boxes of colored stationery to the Department chairman, Mrs. Marge Strum, in Ravenswood.

Miss Willsey conducted three contests during the evening, awarding prizes to the winners. Refreshments of ice cream and strawberries, with cake and coffee were served. This group completed many projects in the interest of veterans during the year.

White Hall Lifts Restrictions On Water Use

WHITE HALL—Mayor G. T. Vandaveer has announced restrictions on city water have been lifted effective May 31, which had been in effect well over a year. The work on the new spillway has been completed with a 60 per cent increase in capacity of the reservoir. The water now stands at twelve feet, eight inches below the new spillway, six feet, six inches below the level of the old spillway, and the water conditions have been called normal. Users are urged to use caution in the use of water so restrictions will not have to be placed on the supply again.

About three-fourths of the fiber used in the United States is cotton.

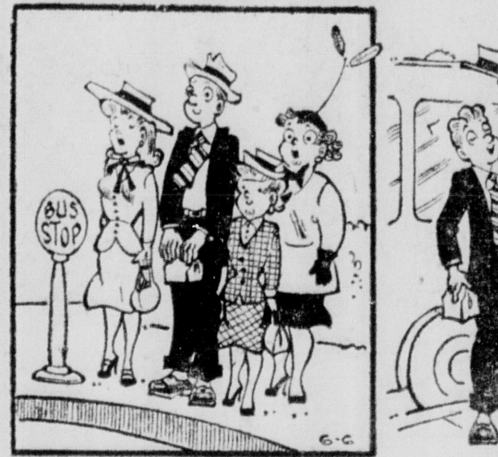

REUNITED WITH FLYER-HUSBAND—Lt. Col. Edwin L. Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., embraces his wife, Judith on their reunion at Hickam Field, Honolulu, Hawaii. Mrs. Heller was first one out of Air Force Constellation to greet her husband, recently released from Red Chinese prison with three other Air Force flyers.
